The Big Duluth

Store Open Monday and Saturday Evenings.

WE DO WISH spring would come soon. We're getting tired selling so many Winter Overcoats and Ulsters without the profit. A fortnight ago we did it with zest, courageously, wisely. Now we're fretted over next winter's outlook. There's a heap of good in an Overcoat or an Ulster this winter yet, when you can save $5, $10 or $15 on it, and yet we wouldn't be surprised if three out of five of these we're selling were for next winter's comfort.

But our store is crowded with spring Overcoats and Suits, the most fashionable, the newest and the best. We needn't tell you though what you'll get from us. But don't you want to get acquainted early with spring clothes? Come in and do it here, freely, pleasantly.

Spring overcoats for you—almost everybody—we've several new lots, silk lined at $12, $15, $18. For the gracefulness any one of them would have won first prize at the World's Fair exhibit.

Some left over of last year's— $\frac{1}{4}$, $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{3}{4}$ off in prices. Don't buy a dollar's worth of Boys' Clothing till you've seen ours.

"Little Senator"

And Cart, Harness and Whip to be given away to the customer guessing nearest their exact weight.

THE FLOYD BROTHERS.

A Writ of Habeas Corpus Was Granted by Chief Justice Gilfillan, Returnable on April 3.

In the Meantime the Two Prisoners Will Remain in the County Jail at Minneapolis.

South Jersey Railroad's Effort to Cross the West Jersey's Right-of-Way May Cause Bloodshed.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 19.—Chief Justice Gilfillan today granted a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Floyd Brothers, convicted of complicity in looting of the Bank of Minneapolis. The writ is returnable April 3, and meantime the prisoners will remain in the county jail here. The point raised is the technical one of whether they could legally be sentenced after the term of court had been adjourned, even though the order of adjournment was rescinded.

THERE MAY BE BLOODSHED. Serious Dispute Over a Railway Crossing in New Jersey.

WOODBINE, N. J., March 19.—Bloodshed may ensue today upon the effort of the South Jersey railroad to cross the right-of-way of the West Jersey railway near this place. A construction gang of the first named corporation is laying track within a short distance of the disputed points, and a collision with the forces of the West Jersey, which in this affair is backed by the police, may occur at any moment. Both gangs are armed. The South Jersey company, if it succeeds in constructing its road, will be the first competitor of West Jersey for passenger traffic for the summer traffic to Cape May and Atlantic City.

TO COME OFF AT WINNIPEG. The Rowing Association's Regatta to Be Held There This Year.

MINNEAPOLIS, March 19.—At the meeting of the Minnesota and Winnipeg Rowing association Saturday night, it was decided that the next regatta will come off at Winnipeg. It was also decided that all races shall be rowed over a one and one-half mile course with a turn.

Officers were elected as follows: President, George F. Galt, Winnipeg; vice president, W. F. Alloway, Winnipeg; secretary and treasurer, W. F. Heubach, Winnipeg. The selection of a commodore, vice commodore and ensign was left to the Winnipeg club as a matter of course.

ROSEBERRY NOW PRAISED. His Edinburgh Speech Pleading to the Home Rule Papers.

DUBLIN, March 19.—The Independent today, commenting on Lord Rosebery's speech at Edinburgh Saturday, says: "Lord Rosebery has followed the lead of the ministerial journals, and we at once confess that he has profited by their teaching."

The Freeman's Journal remarks: "Lord Rosebery has more than justified the trust the Irish placed in him."

SUTHERLAND WAS ABSENT. But the Judge Sentenced Him to One Year in Prison.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Kenneth Sutherland, the Gravesend justice of the peace whose official acts in John V. McKane's behalf at the November election resulted in his conviction last week on the charge of oppression, did not appear for sentence in the Queen's county court today. The judge passed sentence on him of one year's imprisonment and $500 fine. Sutherland is probably in Canada.

A Swamp Land Case. WASHINGTON, March 19.—The commissioner of the general land office has rendered a decision adverse to the state of Minnesota and in favor of Fannie E. Laing, the former claiming under the swamp land act part of section 34-66-10 upon which the latter had made homestead entry. The land is in the northern part of St. Louis county.

Hanged Himself. LACROSSE, Wis., March 19.—Sever Peterson, 65 years of age, hanged himself to a beam in the woodshed at his home in North Lacrosse yesterday morning. The beam was but five feet from the ground, which Peterson's knees almost touched. He died of strangulation. Drink was the cause.

Superior not to be outdone by Duluth, is now agitated over a case of small pox. The doctors are in great doubt as to whether it is the dead disease and it is therefore pretty safe to say that it is. The average doctor is not familiar with the disease. The afflicted individual is one of the "scabs" prior to the epidemic from Chicago to fill the positions made vacant by the strikers. He works in the Evening Telegram office and the office force, from galleys to J. T. Murphy himself, is awaiting the result of a consultation of doctors being held this afternoon with great anxiety.

SWEPT BY A CYCLONE.

A Section of Texas was the Scene of a Terrible Storm.

LONG VIEW, Tex., March 19.—A cyclone swept over this place at 1 o'clock yesterday morning accompanied by hail stones of immense size. The greatest fury was six miles east of here, where it struck the large country home of John Cain, occupied by a large family of negroes.

Five negroes were killed or badly wounded. A passenger train passed just as the cyclone swept by, narrowly escaping it. All previous accounts of immense storms and wind dwarf into insignificance in comparison with this storm.

The cyclone struck the little town of Emory, thirty miles south of Greenville, between 7 and 8 o'clock Saturday evening, and actually demolished the western part of the place. A relief train with doctors, reporters and medical stores was sent down from Greenville, and found the inhabitants panic stricken and nearly helpless. Over a dozen dead and dying persons were lying on stretchers and many others were more or less injured.

The recognized dead are: George Walker, Miss Easter Alexander, Brother Henry and a 4-year-old child of Henry Henry. Three unidentified dead bodies were found north of Emory and brought to town. About fifty persons are wounded, some of them quite seriously. The storm came from the southwest, struck the ground just north of the railroad depot and swept the earth of everything in its track for about five miles in length and two yards wide.

"SOONERISM" IN OKLAHOMA. Important Case to Be Given a Hearing By the Interior Department.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—An important case growing out of the "soonerism" at the Oklahoma opening will be given a hearing by the interior department within a short time. The case is Thomas Burch versus Anton Caba, involving the latter's homestead entry made April 25, 1889, on a section of land on which Oklahoma City is now located.

Burch commenced a contest against the entry in May, 1892, alleging that Caba entered the land in violation of the act of congress and the president's proclamation opening the land to settlement. The local officers recommended the dismissal of the contest, which was sustained on appeal by the general land office.

A motion for rehearing was filed by the secretary of the interior, since which Caba and many of the witnesses for the defense have been convicted of perjury for testimony given. Defendant claims that the courts of justice have been unknowingly made the tool of designing persons to affect the disposition of these cases. The most of the cases are to be determined by the testimony to be taken in this case.

Nearly a Century and a Quarter. PHILADELPHIA, March 19.—At the age of 121 years, Mrs. Annie Bailey, colored, died suddenly in her room at 921 Lombard street. Although there is no authentic record of the old woman's birth, her own story and the testimony of her relatives leave little doubt that she was 121. She often said that she was born in the household of Gen. Chambers, near Chambersburg, Pa., and that she afterward lived for a time with the family of a Mr. Ross near her native town. She was a member of the grand old of the recent battle of Trenton when she was quite a little girl.

Caught In the Woods. AITKEN, Minn., March 19.—The man who attempted a criminal assault on Miss Anna Johnson near town Saturday night, her own story and the testimony of her relatives leave little doubt that she was 121. She often said that she was born in the household of Gen. Chambers, near Chambersburg, Pa., and that she afterward lived for a time with the family of a Mr. Ross near her native town. She was a member of the grand old of the recent battle of Trenton when she was quite a little girl.

Elevator Burned. NORWOOD, Minn., March 19.—Fire originated in A. B. Taylor & Co.'s elevator about 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The building and contents—about 8000 bushels of wheat—were together with Elliott's lumber yard and several small buildings destroyed. Loss in all, about $20,000.

Attempted Suicide. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 19.—Iver Norman, a Scandinavian laborer, made an unsuccessful attempt at suicide last night. No reason is known for the act.

THE HIGHEST AWARD. Dr. Price's Baking Powder Receives It. Chicago Tribune: For leavening power, keeping qualities, purity and general excellence the World's fair jury decided that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder had no equal. On each of its claims it was awarded a first prize or a diploma. All the baking powders entered for prizes were subjected to a most exhaustive examination, and the jury was the best equipped to make the decision of any ever got together. Their verdict was supported by the testimony of Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief chemist of the United States department of agriculture at Washington. Dr. Wiley is an expert on food products and the highest authority on such matters in America. This verdict settles a long debated question as to which among the many baking powders is the best.

ANXIOUS TO HEAR IT

Large Crowds Tried Today to Hear the Testimony in the Pollard-Breckinridge Case.

Miss Pollard Took the Stand and Detailed the Story of Her Seduction by Breckinridge.

Then the Lively Cross-Fire Between the Plaintiff and the Colonel's Attorney Was Resumed.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Pressure for admission to the circuit court, where the Pollard-Breckinridge case is in progress was greater this morning than it has been at any time before because of the expectation that Miss Pollard would return to the witness stand for the continuation of the cross-examination which was started last Friday. Crowds pressed against the railings at the doors trying to pass them by main force, and being repelled with the greatest difficulty.

First among the important arrivals was the defendant, Col. Breckinridge, and soon afterwards came Miss Pollard, without the black cloak which she has worn before. She was dressed in a black cloth gown. Several questions were asked by Mr. Carlisle, in direct effect, whether she had ever been married, to which the answer was:

"No, Mr. Carlisle."

"Who was the father of your first child?" was the next question to which she replied: "Mr. Breckinridge."

Then in continuation the plaintiff related in greater detail than she had before how the congressman seduced her, asserting that he had told her that he would take her to the house of a dear friend, whom he had known in Louisville, before he took her to the house of Mrs. Rose in Cincinnati. He had told her that she had a wonderful intellect, that a brilliant future was before her, and "I seemed to be completely under the influence of his wonderful powers of persuasion," she said.

The first night they had been together they had walked the streets of Cincinnati, as they had done the next day after meeting in the public library. Col. Breckinridge had told her that he would oversee her education; that he would return the money advanced for her schooling by Mr. Rhodes.

"He did not accomplish his purpose the first day, in spite of his violent attempts," she continued, "and it was only late the second day when we were in the house of a friend in Cincinnati." Before taking her to the house of Sarah Goss at Lexington Col. Breckinridge had told her that he should send a telegram to the school, purporting to come from her mother, which he did.

"Did the sexual relations which you have testified to with Col. Breckinridge continue after April 20, 1893?" inquired Mr. Carlisle, but being the date of the secret marriage to Mrs. Wing.

"They began to include May 17, 1893, which was the last I saw Col. Breckinridge," she said, and was about to make further explanations, when the defendant's lawyers interposed objections.

After these passages the cross-fire between Mr. Butterworth and the young woman was resumed where it had been dropped Friday. Many detailed questions concerning her early life, her studies, her friends and ambitions were asked, to all which she returned replies which could have given no comfort to her opponents. When it was asked whether she was a member of the church she explained that she had been confirmed in the Episcopal church. "Are you a member now?" was asked. "Once a member of the Episcopal church, always a member," came the epigrammatic reply.

Her early ambition had been to write, Miss Pollard declared, and Col. Breckinridge had told her that she had wonderful talent in that line. She had also desired to teach. "Do you know the value of a character for a teacher?" Mr. Butterworth asked. "Most assuredly I do. Never so much as today" came the prompt reply. "But all this was swept away by one act." Further on she explained that she understood the requirement for good character in a woman was the same as in a man.

Several times Miss Pollard's lawyers remonstrated with her that she must confine her answers to the questions put to her, as she manifested a disposition to overstep the limits in her eagerness to make her statements count against the other side. Her voice was somewhat lower than it had been when she was last before the court, the pallor of her face had increased except when it had flushed, but her words were as carefully chosen as ever.

Trouble at Cripple Creek Over. DENVER, March 19.—About 10 o'clock this morning after a conference by telephone with Adj. General Tansy, in charge of the state militia at Cripple Creek, Governor Waite issued an order recalling all the troops to their several homes.

THE TARIFF BILL.

Changes in the Sugar Schedule to Protect the Refiners.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The Democratic members of the senate committee on finance have completed their work on the tariff bill and will submit changes which they have made in the bill as drafted by the sub-committee, at a meeting of the full committee to be held this afternoon.

The principal changes which they have made in the bill are in the sugar schedule, and that has been modified so as to take into account the color as well as the polarization of sugar. The change made will add 1/2 cent per pound on the color test, so as to insure to the refiner this much protection.

This is in accordance with the original intention of the committee, but it has been claimed that the bill as at first reported to the full committee would discriminate against the refiners.

The lead ore duty and whisky tax, as well as the duty placed upon coal and iron ore, will remain as placed in the bill by the Democratic members. The present tax on domestic cigars will be restored.

BALDWIN STICKS TO OLUND. The Major Still Urging Olund For Collector at Duluth.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—[Special to The Herald.]—Emil Olund will be the next collector at the port of Duluth, if Representative Baldwin has his way about it. He is still working for Olund's appointment.

He called at the treasury department today, and it is said that purpose of his visit was to push Olund and further urge the appointment of Charles W. Field of Minneapolis for collector of internal revenue.

He also called at the department of justice to urge the appointment of D. T. Calhoun of St. Cloud for district attorney.

Claims of Letter Carriers. WASHINGTON, March 19.—W. W. Chicago, Milwaukee, Springfield, Ill., and Racine, Wis., are among the first of these at which carriers' claims will be examined.

Stockholders of the Merchants Bank Decided Saturday Night to Liquidate and Go Out of Business.

There Are Abundant Funds on Hand to Pay All Depositors Every Cent Due Them.

The Bank Has Not Been Doing a Paying Business Owing to Hard Times—Other News.

A proposition to liquidate and close up the affairs of the Merchants bank was carried at a stockholders' meeting on Saturday evening. This action was not taken through any financial difficulty or mismanagement on the part of the bank's officials, but simply from the fact that the present business depression and the future outlook does not warrant the continuance of the business. The bank is abundantly supplied with funds to cover all deposits and its affairs will be wound up in a business like manner as soon as possible.

The institution was organized in dull times and the failure to make money is no reflection on the officers as the stockholders are fully satisfied with the management.

Bought a High Figure.
On Saturday the firm of Williamson & McCormick sold the Central avenue lot on which their office stands for $5500. The deal was made with West Duluth parties and the property purchased for improvement. The purchase price is with possibly one exception as high an amount as was ever paid for Central avenue property.

Mr. Williamson stated that the firm has sold $11,500 worth of West Duluth property since March 1, and that he feels quite encouraged over the situation.

On the Miskew and Despair.
Kauffmann hasn't had steady work for six months. He got little jobs for awhile, made a dollar or two in a week, but for the last four months he hasn't had a stitch to do. He hasn't earned a dollar. The man is almost crazy. The landlord's agent was around yesterday. Kauffmann begged and pleaded for a little more time.

"Well, I'm sorry," said the agent. "If it was me, I suppose I'd let you stay. But you see how it is. The landlord needs his money. He has to pay taxes and all that. He'd rather let the rooms stand empty than have people in here who don't pay any rent. The place runs down when you're here, and it wouldn't if it were empty. You'll have to get the rent somehow or other."

Then Kauffmann's heart sank within him, and his bosom was contracted with grief.

One of the neighbors tried to comfort him. "Don't get discouraged. Times are going to pick up."

"Yes, but how shall I get the money to pay my rent? We haven't a cent to buy food with. How can I pay rent?"

"Business will pick up pretty soon."

"For me, not. I'll be dead when it does. I can die here, once, and why not die quick instead of dragging along?"

Then he started off on a run.

"Where are you going?" the neighbor called after him.

"To hell!" cried Kauffmann.

The neighbors think he will not kill himself. They expect he will make the same old weary round of the shops asking for a little job that will give him something to eat.—East-West Weekly.

WHEAT LOWER TODAY.

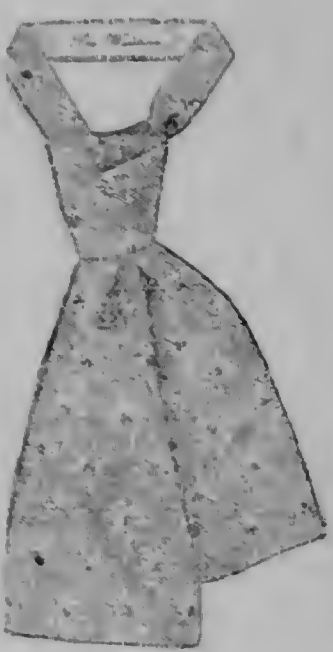

Business Active in May and July. But the Market Was Weak.

The wheat market this morning opened lower than Saturday's close for futures. There was good trading in July in large lots, and also active business in May, but in small lots. Cash wheat ruled very dull all day. The market advanced 1/2¢ from the opening during the session, but about 11 o'clock began to ease off and ruled weak during the remainder of the session, closing lower than Saturday for cash and March and 1/2¢ lower for May and July. The weakness was due to a big increase in volume, passing lower cables and generally heavy rains throughout the wheat-raising region. Following were the closing prices:

THE SALARY QUESTION

The Aldermen May Be Somewhat Agitated
Over the Stipends to Be Paid
This Year.

Strong Probability That the Nominations of
M. J. Davis and S. F. Wadhams
Will Be Confirmed.

West Duluth Police Force Appointments Liable to Be Sent In—Other City Hall Gossip.

The council holds its regular meeting tonight. An interesting meeting is in prospect unless the aldermen agree on the salary question this afternoon. Some are opposed to heavy cuts, while others are red hot for such action. One alderman this morning risked the prediction
that the president of the board of public works will get $1000, and his two associates $900 each and the clerk $1000.
The foreman will, it is thought, not be reduced at all and a strong fight will be made against the proposed reduction of 10 per cent for the patrolmen.

The assistant city clerk's salary has been fixed at $75 a month. City Clerk Richardson appeared before the aldermen at their caucus the other day and asserted that his fees amount to only $700 annually. His fixed salary is $1500
and in the face of his statement, his income will not be reduced, it is said, although some firmly believe that he is misleading as to the annual amount received in fees. There is also something of a sentiment to the effect that there is too great a difference in the incomes
of the clerk and the assistant clerk.

There is little doubt but that the mayor's nominations for assessor and board of public works will be confirmed tonight. One alderman said this morning that there would be no opposition. Mayor Lewis will send in two communications to the aldermen tonight, at least that was the prospect at noon, and the only nominations will be the West Duluth police force. Fifteen men have been selected for that force and all but three have, at some time, been in either
at West Duluth or Duluth. Arthur Briggs will, it is asserted quite authoritatively, succeed Lieut. Patterson. Sergts.
Doyle and Kousney will also be compelled to walk the plank if the Herald's information is not all wrong. Just who their successors will be and who else of the present force will be dropped has not been proclaimed from the house tops.
One of the patrolmen, however, will be the foster McKean.

Ellsworth Benham will be named for assistant city attorney, and there is likely to be some red hot talk on the city water works matter.

As to the Duluth police force, the fire
commissioners and the library board, Mayor Lewis says that he intends to take his time for action.

The captain of police will remain with Sam Thompson, but he will have to share a very large salary with two other men. Bob Benson can have a place as city detective if he wants it, according to the best information obtainable. Tom O'Brien will still be junior of the city hall, so a lot of aspirants are headed off
there.

acting directly upon the blood and mucous sur-

foundation of the disease, and giving the

APPROVES THE SELECTION.

Jim Hill's Selection of Government Lands Endorsed by Commissioner Lamoreux.

On Jan. 24 the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway company filed in the local United States land office its selection
list No. 2, under the act of Aug. 5, 1892. On Feb. 15, 1894, an affidavit of contest against the selections executed by Hugh Kennedy and corroborated by the joint affidavit of Edwin and William Ward was filed and the matter was transmitted to the general land office at Washington.
The affidavits alleged that none of the lands selected by the railway company were of the class which it was entitled to choose, for the reason that each tract
contained a ledge of silver-bearing quartz,
very rich in gold and silver and of no
practical value for any other purpose;
also that the railway company did not make the selections in good faith; and further that the lands were not selected for the railway company but for the benefit of A. D. Bevier, A. Bevier,
C. A. Bevier, M. Ten Brook,
and Albert Rockwell, and that the lands and the lands were sold before selection and location of list No. 2 was made; also that the non-mineral affidavit
was made in pursuance of the sale and assignment for a valuable consideration
and not otherwise, with a full knowledge that the purchases and assignments were taking the land only for the gold and silver bearing quartz thereon.

On that statement of facts, the applicant asked that the selection be approved and that a hearing be ordered at his expense with a view to the cancellation of the railway company's filing.
The commissioner in a letter received today, narrates the origin of the "Jim Hill Scrip" and the provisions of the law
regarding the use of it. He then quotes statutes providing that the general
mineral laws shall not apply to mineral lands in Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota which are declared free and open to exploration and purchase the same as before the passage of the "act" to promote the development of the mining resources of the United States," approved
May 10, 1872, and that such lands shall be offered for public sale in the same manner, at the same minimum price and under the same rights of pre-emption as other public lands. That law has never been repealed except in respect to the public lands of the United States, as embodied in acts of March 2, 1880, and March 3, 1891.

The only classifications of lands in Minnesota ever made or attempted are such as have been made for their basis field notes of deputy surveyors, except such as have been made under the act of 1872,
relating to the segregation of the timber lands and having no relation to mines or minerals. In the absence of mention of minerals in the field notes of survey,
such lands must be classified as non-mineral at date of survey.

The tract embraced by this contest in the notes of survey are not mentioned as possessing mineral indications of any kind. A review of the peculiar circumstances leading up to the law of Aug. 5, 1892, are reviewed by the commissioner.
The custom of excepting mineral lands
from railway grants, whether reported
as such by the surveyor or not is refuted by Commissioner Lamoreux in his decision. He then says: "By the act of 1892, however, the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway company was in consideration of its relinquishment of Dakota lands, held by those who settled therein, the act of 1892 was passed, by which the lands were to be surveyed and
select an equal quantity of non-mineral
bearing public lands, so classified as non-
mineral at the time of actual government survey, which has or shall be
made."

"Had it been the intention of congress
to absolutely prohibit the requirement of title by the company to mineral lands,
there would have been no necessity for the insertion of the clause relating to the classification of lands. That clause was inserted for the purpose of saying to the company: 'You may take any lands of the United States, whether mineral or non-mineral, but they must be classed selection, not classified as mineral at the time of survey, notwithstanding the fact that since that the mineral deposits may be discovered. That the company is to select an equal quantity of non-mineral
bearing public lands, so classified as non-
mineral at the time of actual government survey, which has or shall be
made.'"

"In view of the fact that the mineral lands of Minnesota are excepted from the operation of the mineral laws of the United States, in the absence of statute prohibiting it, the government can have no objection to the company's selection
of mineral lands in the state.

"The land under consideration here may be mineral as alleged by the applicant for contest, and its character
in that respect may have been known to the company's agents at the time
of selection; but they were classed as non-mineral at the time of actual survey, and I am of the opinion that they were legally selected as non-mineral lands to their mineral character, to selection under the act of Aug. 5, 1892,
and that they are not interdicted mineral lands by the character contemplated
by the act."

"With respect to the allegation by the contest applicant that the lands were selected for the purpose of being conveyed by the company to other parties
under contracts, agreements or assignment, executed prior to selection, and that the company had no right to select land in the state of 1892, requiring the company to devote to its own exclusive use, the lands to be selected.
The instances where railroad companies
have sold lands prior to their selection
are numerous, and their right to do so has never been denied by the department or the courts, as far as I am informed. On the contrary such right seems to be generally recognized.

"If it be admitted that all the allegations of Kennedy are true, I am of the opinion that such facts would not be sufficient to warrant the cancellation of the company's selections. The application for contest and hearing is therefore denied, subject to appeal within sixty days.

HALL HAS RESIGNED.

Ed H. Hall Has Resigned as Secretary of
All the Mining Companies in the Consolidated.

This Leaves Him Free to Act With the Merritts in the Fight for Control.

Napoleon B. Merritt Resigned a Few Days
Ago as the Treasurer of the Same
Companies.

Ed H. Hall this morning tendered his resignation as secretary of the Mountain Iron company and of all the other mining companies on the Mesaba, known as the Merritt properties and included in the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines, which is the legal title of the Rockefeller Mesaba trust. Napoleon B.
Merritt resigned as treasurer of the same companies a few days ago, but the fact
was kept secret until today.

These resignations are of considerable importance, when viewed in connection with the proceedings started against C.
W. Wetmore by Leonidas and Alfred Merritt and the report that they intend to follow up this action
with other proceedings in an effort to regain control of the Mesaba mines and the railroad property. Mr. Hall declined to discuss the reasons of his resignation, but it was learned that the act was voluntary on his part, as Mr. Rockefeller desired to retain his services owing his intimate knowledge of the business of the various mining companies.

Mr. Hall has decided, of course, to assist the Merritts in their legal fight to undo the action which has been taken from the control of the Consolidated
trust, and he naturally resigned in conjunction with them. It is not unlikely that there will be other and more important developments in connection with this fight within a few days.

NEW COMPANY ORGANIZED.
Duluth and Superior Men Buy the Iron River
Brownstone Company Property.

Charles W. Ellison, of this city, has purchased the property of the Iron River Brownstone company, the differences regarding the sale between Assignee Barthell and the creditors being ambly settled. The company represents $60,000 out of the $77,000 liabilities. The terms of the sale were the same as at first proposed—$500 above all incumbrances, which were in the mortgage of about $60,000, with the exception of the stone on the West Duluth block valued at $900, which the assignee still holds.

The company has been formed known as the Iron River Red Sandstone company. The incorporators and officers are Duluth and Superior men and the capital is $100,000. The officers are:
President, A. C. Titus; vice president,
August Brown; secretary, A. G. Mc-Donald; treasurer, A. E. McCordic and A. G.
McDonald. The new company issues
stock to the creditors of the old concern,
taking their claims at par.

LOOKED SUSPICIOUS.

A vag arrested who carried a brick in his pocket.
Last night about 8 o'clock, on Michigan street, Detective Kenna saw four men in the shadow of the Board of Trade building. They started towards him, but he saw who he was and sneaked away.
The fourth braced up to him and made a remark about there having been a fight up at Friendly Inn. Later on one of the quartet was arrested at the Union depot
for begging on the street. When taken to the police station, he gave the name of Henry Davies. Half a brick was found in his pocket, which leads the police to believe that Davies and his associates
would have held up some one had half a chance been offered them. This morning in police court, Davies pleaded not guilty to a charge of vagrancy and his hearing was set for this afternoon.

Judge Wink committed one drunk and one vag. A second drunk paid the usual fine. Ernest Wright, charged with disorderly conduct, pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for the afternoon session.

EXTENDING THE VETO

Proposal to Give the President the Power to Veto Items of the Appropriation Bills.

Only Choice He Now Has Is Between Approval and Disapproval of the Entire Bill.

Under the Present System Many Bills Go Through That Would Otherwise Be Shut Out.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The question of amending the constitution of the United States so as to give to the president the right to veto items of appropriation bills has long been one that many members of congress have given considerable thought to. It is well known that frequently the chief executive finds provisions in these bills that are objectionable to him, yet rather than sacrifice the numerous items which would result from a veto, he signs the bills and they become laws as a whole.

Fruitless efforts have been made in previous congresses to remedy this unsatisfactory condition of affairs, and in this congress a similar attempt will be made. Representative Dearmond, of Missouri, has introduced in the house a resolution amending the constitution so as to empower the president to veto any one or more items of an appropriation bill.

In speaking to a reporter about the amendment today, Mr. Dearmond said: "As all know, the president has the power of vetoing any bill passed by congress and when he returns a bill without his approval, the measure fails until it passes the house by a two-thirds majority on a yeas and nays vote. Some bills, notably appropriation bills, embrace a number of distinct items. No matter how grave the objection of the president to any one or more items, his only choice is between approval and disapproval of the entire bill.

By the proposed amendment, in case the president returns the bill to the house in which it originated with a statement of his objections to the items which he did not approve, the same course would be taken as if he had vetoed the entire bill. It has become quite the fashion of late years to load down appropriation bills with all kinds of "riders in." Of course great appropriation bills must be passed or the wheels of the government would stop. Great inconvenience, even hardship, would result from a veto, and yet the bill may contain items which have not, in fact, and ought not to have in fact, any real approval. With the constitution amended as suggested, the president would refer back to congress the question of whether objectionable items should remain in the bill or go out of it.

"Choice between defeating a bill which must be passed as a matter of necessity of the appropriations which it carries, and passing a bill which, on account of some of the riders in it, ought not to be passed, is the question which the legislator before the bill reaches the president. If the president had the power to veto items resting on extravagance, or something worse, there would be less temptation to maneuver and scheme to get such items into a bill. Provisions similar to those of the proposed amendment are found in some of the state constitutions, that of Missouri for instance, and they have proved their worth wherever tried."

Delegate Joseph, of New Mexico, will make a move, as soon as the appropriation bills are out of the way, to secure a special rule by which the New Mexico statehood bill will be given the right of way and block all other business in the house until a quorum makes its appearance and passes the bill. Mr. Joseph had arranged to take up the bill yesterday, but when the time came he recognized the futility of the course, as there was far short of a Democratic quorum present. As party lines are drawn on the bill, he could hope for no help from the Republican side and was obliged to postpone action.

"It appears to be useless," said he, "to try to pass the bill unless it is made a special order and held before the house."

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY.

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying those organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as all are aware by the accompanying cut.

The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric currents conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact, instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorders arising therefrom, they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., L. L. B., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long since realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nerve is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is a wonderful fact, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturing the remedy testify.

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, and of such a nature as to restore the system to its normal condition, and is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Company, New York, on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles, for $5, express prepaid. Restorative Nerve positively contains no opiates or dangerous drugs."

FOR SALE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

blocking all other business until a Democratic quorum comes here and passes the measure. It will be remarkable if a house with a large Democratic majority can't pass this bill. All I want is a quorum, and for that reason I will move to get the measure before the house and keep it there until the majority comes back and passes it, as soon as the appropriation bills are considered."

The party issue on the New Mexico bill is due to the fact that the minority of the house want Oklahoma admitted at the same time. Representative Thomas, a Republican member of the committee on territories, says that as the admission of New Mexico is likely to add two new Democratic United States senators to the present majority of the same, while the admission of Oklahoma is likely to add two Republican senators to the minority, it is proper to even up these political advantages by admitting both territories at the same time. It is urged also that the Utah and Arizona bills, already passed by the house, give a prospect of four Democratic senators, so that fairness urges the admission of Oklahoma as well as the other three territories.

The purpose of the minority in the house to raise the point of no quorum due to the failure to secure an agreement to pass the Oklahoma with the New Mexico bill. Delegate Joseph is confident that the special rule he is about to pass the New Mexico without complication with Oklahoma.

JOE ALLEN KNOCKED OUT.
Frank Gerard's Right Landed Heavily on His Jaw.

CHICAGO, March 20.—A bloody finish fight occurred last night in a private hall on the North side. It was between Frank Gerard, of Chicago, who has a record of having killed a man in the ring, and Joe Allen, of Australia. The men were evenly matched as regards weight, but Gerard had much the advantage in reach. The men hammered each other furiously through the first round, and the pace was too fast for long fight. Gerard secured a knock down and succeeded in making his opponent a sickening looking object.

In the second he again had everything his own way, sending Allen down five times. Finally he landed with the left on Allen's nose and followed it with a right swing on the jaw and the fight was over.

TEMPERANCE APOSTLE

The Advocates of Total Abstinence Are Celebrating the Ninetieth Birthday of Gen. Neal Dow.

An Immense Meeting Held in London Tonight in Honor of the Veteran Temperance Agitator.

Pictures of the General When Mayor of Portland and as He Now Appears Displayed.

LONDON, March 20.—England, in common with all the civilized world, is celebrating today the 90th birthday of Gen. Neal Dow, the great American temperance advocate. At Exeter hall, this city, there will be an immense meeting tonight in honor of the veteran temperance agitator. The United Kingdom alliance and the British Women's Temperance association, of England, have enthusiastically adopted the suggestion made by the World's and National W. C. T. U., and the picture of Gen. Dow, as he appeared in 1851, when he was mayor of Portland, Me., when the prohibitory law was adopted in that state, and another picture representing him as he now appears, that has been displayed in all temperance resorts throughout England today.

At the Exeter hall meeting tonight Lady Henry Somerset will preside, and Miss Francis E. Willard, Sir Wilfrid Lawson, Rev. Hugh Price Hughes, Mrs. Ormiston-Chant and others have signed a cable message which the Associated Press has been requested to forward to Gen. Neal Dow, to be read at the celebration which is to take place today in the city hall, Portland, Me., and the Associated Press has also been requested to transmit the reply of Gen. Neal Dow to the meeting which is to take place this evening in Exeter hall. The dispatch from the Exeter hall meeting is as follows:

"To Gen. Neal Dow: A mighty throng gathered in Exeter hall crowns your ninety beneficent years with love and gratitude, for you can truly say: 'When the star beamed me, then blessed me, and when the eye saw me, it gave witness to me, because I delivered the poor that cried and the fatherless, and him that had none to help him to against the attack of the nobles. Radical changes in the government of the church were proposed. The address created a sensation.'"

A MURDEROUS YOUNGSTER.

He Shot His Brother and Two Months Ago He Killed a Boy.

ST. LOUIS, March 20.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Abbeville, Ala., says: Little Dick Vant, the 10-year-old son of James Vant (colored), asked a 12-year-old brother Sunday for a piece of a biscuit, he was eating, and on being refused, drew a pistol and shot him in the head, inflicting wounds from which he died this morning.

Two months ago Dick killed a 6-year-old brother with a club because he would not give him some marbles, and four months ago he cut three fingers off the hand of his little sister with an ax. The murderous youngster is now in jail.

HE HAD TWO WIVES LIVING.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 20.—Archie M. Grieve, of this city, died last August, when Hannah A. Grieve, whom he married here in 1889, claimed the estate. Shortly after another woman appeared on the scene and claimed to be Grieve's wife. The matter was taken to the court and yesterday was decided in favor of Mary Grieve.

A METHODIST FOUR HUNDRED.
Sensation Created by the Address of a Chicago Clergyman.

CHICAGO, March 20.—Methodist bishops were criticized and the government of the church roundly scored by Rev. M. M. Parkhurst, a Chicago clergyman, at that denomination, at a meeting of Methodist ministers yesterday.

The speaker's subject was "King Georgeism in the Methodist Church," and he claimed that no one not a favorer of the church could be a member.

Mr. Parkhurst said there was an elect 400 of the Methodist church which controlled the movement of the bishops, by the strength of the position which their dollars gave them.

The preachers who opposed the rule of the rich few knew the bishops were powerless to protect them against the attack of the nobles. Radical changes in the government of the church were proposed. The address created a sensation.

Three Likely to Die.
CRAWFORDVILLE, Ind., March 20.—A wholesale poisoning occurred at Hillsboro Sunday night. The family and help of Dr. Hayes were all taken violently sick, after eating canned chicken, and three deaths will likely result. George Bushy, a colored hired hand, is dead and Dr. Hayes and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Rivers, are not expected to recover.

Dissolution in July.
LONDON, March 20.—The Times says it is taken for granted in Radical circles that parliament will dissolve in July, if not earlier. It is not improbable that Tim Healy will join the Parliaments.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 20.—It is announced here in political circles that Congressman Harris will positively not be a candidate for congressman-at-large again and that Jerry Simpson will be such a candidate for election and not run in the Seventh district.

Ratcliffe Acquitted.
JACKSON, Miss., March 20.—The jury in the case of the Populist state representative, Ratcliffe, on trial at Kosciusko for killing the Democratic state representative, Jackson, returned a verdict yesterday of not guilty. In the fight a bystander was killed and one wounded.

Adulterated Wine.
Is injurious, but nothing gives strength, and tones up the stomach like a pure old port wine. "Royal Ruby" Port so called for its royal taste and ruby color is on account of its purity, age, and strength, particularly adapted for invalids, convalescents and the aged. Sold only in bottles (never in bulk) while cheap wine is sold by the gallon and gives a larger profit to the seller but less to the user. This wine is absolutely pure, and has the age without which no wine is fit to use. Secure your "Royal Ruby" quart bottles $1, pints 60 cts. Sold by S. F. Boyce, druggist.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS

Newly Appointed Police Officers Took Their Oaths of Office and Went on Duty Today.

All Except Three Have at Some Time Been on the Police Force in West Duluth.

Appointments Seem to Meet With Popular Approval—Burbank Boys Sent to the Reform School.

Lieutenant Briggs and the newly elected members of the police force went to Duluth this morning, took their oaths of office and went on duty at noon. The following is the personnel of the department: Arthur Briggs, lieutenant; Hans Peterson and M. L. Roche, sergeants; Ed. Jensen, court officer; Chas. Stevens and Frank Fredell, jailers; patrolmen, Roy McKenzie, Peter Habberstad, John Peabody, Victor Anderson, Gus Schroeder, John Sunneberg, Chris Johnson, E. E. Kelson and N. N. Terry. Of the force as it now stands there are but three men Roy McKenzie, Chris Johnson and E. E. Kelson who have not at some time drawn pay as West Duluth policemen. Ed. Jensen takes the old position as court officer which he held under Martin's first administration. The jailers and five of the patrolmen have been serving the past year and held their positions through reappointments. Roy McKenzie, the "seven footer," is said to be the man whom the mayor, to use a vulgar expression, "is stuck on" and that after a short apprenticeship in West Duluth the tall Scotchman will be stationed at the Union depot to impress travelers with the dignity and physical development of the city guards.

Physically speaking the force is composed of a fine body of men, no one of the number is undersized, and all look possessed of good muscular development. E. E. Kelson, with a well proportioned form and a girlish complexion will probably rate as the handsomest man on the force. Taken all in all the department is certainly as efficient as any ever appointed in West Duluth, remarked a representative citizen this morning in speaking on the subject.

The selection of Arthur Briggs for lieutenant seems to meet with popular approval. Miss Maude Stevens has been retained as clerk of the municipal court.

Sent to the Reform School.
Frank and Peter Burbank were arrested yesterday for stealing footwear from the stock of Olund & Olund, which was stored in the Olson building on Central avenue. The lads are 11 and 13 years of age and live with their parents on Fourth avenue west. The boys pleaded guilty before Judge Himebaugh and after consultation with the parents the conclusion was reached that the boys were incorrigible and the judge sentenced them to the state reformatory institution.

West Duluth Briefs.

Rev. T. M. Price has gone to Northfield for a short visit.

Large Cloud of Discord Seems to Have Appeared on the Horizon and Aldermen Are Troubled.

Salary of the City Clerk and His Assistant Is One Matter Over Which They Disagree.

The Big Bone of Contention Is the Salaries of the Board of Public Works Members.

A cloud of aldermanic discord seems to be rising on the municipal horizon. It keeps on growing, as seems most likely just now, it may result in blood on the moon. This question of salaries seems to be the bone of contention.

In the first place, contrary to general belief, the salary of the city clerk has not been positively settled. Some believe that he has got a better thing than the times warrant; others believe that there's too great a disparity between the salary of the clerk and the salary of the deputy, especially when the latter does as much work as the former.

Yesterday afternoon the question came up in caucus. The vote stood 8 to 3 in favor of retaining Assistant Clerk Austin, paying both him and Richardson $100 each per month and letting the fees go to whichever is there to receive them. It is not generally known that if the clerk is out of his office the assistant is then the acting clerk and as such, legally, has all the powers of the regular clerk, even unto collecting and rightfully possessing the fees. It will be remembered that in St. Paul once there was a great squabble over that point, the city clerk there being out of town at the time and the fees being pocketed by his assistant or deputy. The law was construed in favor of the assistant.

Even if Mr. Austin is not retained or if his salary is not raised, together with an allowance of such fees as he catches, there seems to be a determination to whittle Mr. Richardson's fixed salary down to $1200 a year. One of the Fourth ward aldermen only today said that all his efforts were going to be directed to that end.

But the great big apple of discord is the question of salaries for the board of public works. Last evening at the council meeting eight city fathers voted to make that salary $300 per year for each member. They needed three votes more to carry their point and it is asserted that these three votes will never be forthcoming. Some, strange as it may seem, are taking the stand that they do it for the purpose of making it too uninteresting for M. J. Davis, possibly Mr. Sordling too, and even, Capt. Farrell.

This morning Alderman Evans came into the office of the board of public works and said to President Truelsen: "Well, what do you think about this?" "Well," replied Mr. Truelsen, "it's what I looked for. I had no hopes or wishes for further favors, especially at the hands of an administration opposed to me politically."

"Oh, I do not mean that, I mean this proposed cut in salaries to $300 for each member of the board."

"As to that," answered Mr. Truelsen, "I think it bad policy, unwise and also pointed to perform their duties and bear the responsibilities. It's worth more than $300 a year."

"Yes," declared Evans, "it is worth more. Incompetent men are appointed on the board just to pay political debts. I don't propose to pay the salaries of these men."

"You were not sharp then," said Mr. Truelsen, "or you would have refused to confirm these men until the men who have refused to reduce salaries to so low a notch had agreed to the reduction. Now they not only have the best of you, but you are compelled to show your hand."

Last night when Alderman Harwood read the charter and made so long a speech, a good many were inclined to turn up their noses at him and accuse him of attempting to establish himself as the William E. Gladstone of the council. Today they are thinking, for they fear that the wily alderman dug a pit for their feet and that they stepped into it. It was noticed that he made no objections to Davis and Sordling, but that he simply asked his fellow aldermen if those men were competent to perform the duties of the charter. All assented to the proposition that they were. Now, if those men are competent, Mr. Harwood feels that he is in a position to ask why their salaries should be reduced for political or personal reasons. Competent men should not, he maintains, as do others, be expected to work for that. Those who have other reasons than those of retrenchment are placed in a close corner.

That is the way it stands. How the deadlock will end, no one now knows. Mr. Davis today stated that he would stay with those who are alleged to be working a scheme for the purpose of getting a "twinge" at him, and that he will serve, no matter what the salary.

Fire at Lester Park.

James Staples' residence on Grand avenue in Lester Park, was totally destroyed by fire this morning about 1 o'clock together with all its contents. The fire caught presumably from an electric wire or from the stove. The house was nearly burned down before the department arrived. The loss on the house was $1400 and on the contents $300, with insurance of $2500 or $3000.

Have Taken Their Offices.

Lieut. Briggs, Sergeant Roach and Peterson and Officers McKenzie, Kelso, Teny, Johnson and Jailer Jensen, were on hand at police headquarters at an early hour. The city clerk administered unto them the oath, after which they returned to West Duluth, in company with Chief Armstrong, who went down to set the new machinery in motion. Seven of the fifteen confirmed last evening have been on the old force, hence it was not necessary for them to be sworn in anew.

FORTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

That is the Amount Asked for in a Suit Begun Today.

A complaint was filed today in a suit entitled Ralph N. Marble, Charles M. Parkhurst and S. D. Allen against Margaretta Lonstorf, George J. Lonstorf, A. Lonstorf, Joe E. Sness and Bertha Sness.

It is a suit over the title to the 5 1/2 of section 7, and 5 1/2 of section 8, in 63-14. The plaintiffs allege that in 1887 Margaretta and Nicholas Lonstorf contracted with Attorneys Allen & Parkhurst to secure title for this land for them, it being contested in the United States court. They agreed to convey one-third of the land in consideration.

The attorneys made an agreement with R. N. Marble to assist them. In time patent was obtained for Margaretta Lonstorf, she agreeing to convey one-third, but she is alleged to have broken faith and conveyed her interest to Joe E. Sness.

The plaintiffs allege that Sness took the land with full knowledge of the plaintiffs' rights and that the deed was made to defraud them. They therefore ask that it be set aside and that defendant Margaretta be compelled to convey one-third of the property to them, and if the deed cannot be cancelled, to pay to them $10,000, the value of an undivided one-third. Allen & Baldwin are plaintiffs' attorneys.

Scott & Holston Lumber company began their lien suits today in the district court. One is against Duncan McDougall et al., and a judgment for $16,460 is asked; another against Edward Lowe et al., $428.11 being asked for, and another against James Jameson, $283.10 being the amount asked for. Jacques & Hudson are plaintiffs' attorneys.

WAS FOUND GUILTY.

The Man With the Brickbat Convicted of Vagrancy—Other Culprits.

In police court this morning, Henry Davies, the fellow who was found with a brickbat in his pocket when arrested Sunday night and whom the police believed to be a bad man, was found guilty of vagrancy and sent up for ten days.

John Anderson, Henry Carlson and Mike Broderick pleaded guilty to drunkenness and their frankness in owning up to their crime secured for them suspended sentences.

Dan Daugherty went up five days for vagrancy. J. Buchanan, charged with disorderly conduct, failed to appear and his bail was forfeited. Ernest Wright, charged with the same offense, was proven guilty and committed to the county jail for ten days.

James Colford's hearing on the charge of bastardy yesterday afternoon was continued to March 27.

Henry and Adolph Blix, charged with incorrigibility, were found guilty and sentenced to reform school. They were committed to the county jail to await the action of one of the judges of the district court.

Congratulates C. W. Dorsey.

Frederick L. McGhee, the brainy colored lawyer of St. Paul, has written C. W. Dorsey a congratulatory letter on his selection as one of the delegates to the McKinley meeting at Minneapolis.

Mr. Dorsey is a guest while there. He regards Mr. Dorsey's selection as a deserved recognition of colored men as an active force in the Republican party and expresses his assurance that the St. Louis county Republicans appreciate this. He closes his letter by expressing a wish that Mr. Dorsey may rise in the political ladder until he has reached the topmost round.

Still Dragging Along.

The lien case of Williston, Charney & Co. vs. T. P. Mathew et al. is proving to be the most long winded of any before the district court this term. The plaintiffs only closed their case at noon today and it will hardly be concluded before tomorrow night.

Before Judge Lewis judgment for the plaintiff was rendered in John F. Wray vs. J. F. Culbertson et al. R. N. Marble et al. vs. Margaretta Lonstorf et al. was dismissed. Judgment for the plaintiff against Defendants Wing and Tinkham was given in Charles W. Elston et al. vs. Blum et al. and in Neuman vs. Edward Ott et al. is on trial.

Elks to be Revived.

On Friday evening there is to be a grand revival of Zenith City Lodge 133 of Elks. District Deputy Dr. Caine, of Stillwater, will come up accompanied by seventy-five Elks from St. Paul and Minneapolis. Twenty-five new members will be initiated into the lodge. The meeting and exercises will be in the K. of P. hall in the Parsons block and a banquet at the Spaulding will follow. The lodge has been inactive for the past two years.

WANTS THEM WORKED.

Chief Armstrong Recommends the Employment of City Prisoners.

Chief of Police Armstrong this morning recommended to the board of public works that the city prisoners be worked on Sixth avenue east, between First and Second streets. The other day, the boss was discharged and the chain gang abolished.

The members of the board fully favor working these prisoners on the streets, but in their judgment, the rock cut on Twenty-fourth avenue east is the best place to put them. There is a lot of rock piled out there that must be removed and it seems to be economy to break it first. The city will have to pay for that. The money resulting from it could be used to put them to work. Not being street work, no assessment would be required before the work was done and even if an assessment was made, the money resulting from it could not be expended by the city for day labor. If, then, a street gang is going to be worked, the board think that this rock cut is just the place for it.

PUPILS FATALLY INJURED.

Panic in a Chicago School Today Caused by a Fire.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Fire in the South Evanston public school today caused a panic among the pupils. Several of the children jumped from the fourth floor and were injured, but only four of them were badly hurt. Those whose injuries may prove fatal are: Simonds, Newell, head and shoulders injured. Seeger, Ella, legs broken. Bradley, Percy, internally injured. Burden, Esther, fatally injured about the head.

The pupils on the second floor of the building were driven by the flames and smoke to the upper stories whence they were rescued by the firemen. Teachers and pupils were panic stricken and many were knocked down and trampled upon in the rush for the exits. After the building was thought to be deserted, a fireman found 10-year-old Lucy Husible unconscious on the third floor. She was badly burned and her recovery is doubtful. The building valued at $50,000, was a total loss.

Diamond Robbery Exposed.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21.—Walter Guy Furnal, a swindler with a long record of successful operations in the Eastern states, has made a confession to the part he played in the robbery of the Jacobson diamonds. On Feb. 17 a trunk was stolen from Simon Jacobson's residence, containing $650 worth of diamonds. Furnal says he had two accomplices, James Wilson and Robert Heymann. He has returned nineteen of the jewels.

RIOT ON A RIVER PACKET.

A Local Pugilist Fatally Injured and Many Others Wounded.

POMEROY, Ohio, March 21.—A small riot took place on the Kanawha river packet, Columbia, last night while embarking fifty miners at Clifton, W. Va., for the Monarch mines in Kanawha valley.

The fight broke out between Laff Henry, local prize pugilist, and Dan Johnson, a miner, over an old trouble, and continued until twenty-five men were involved. Fire arms and sling shots were freely used. Charles Purcell, operator from Monarch, employing miners, rushed in as peacemaker, and had his left arm severed at the wrist. Henry will probably not recover and a dozen others were wounded.

TO PASS THE SENATE

Senator Brice Says the Tariff Bill as Now Amended Will Pass With Few Changes.

Will be a Fight Against the Income Tax and Abrogation of the Reciprocity Treaties.

Enough Republicans Voting With the Democrats to Keep the Income Tax in the Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Senator Brice, of Ohio, who was the chief mover for the caucus of Democratic senators, thinks the tariff bill, as reported from the committee, will now pass the senate, but that the senate amendments will be materially changed in the house and in conference before the bill is finally agreed upon. As the bill now stands, he says it is not satisfactory to all the Democrats of the senate, and he believes that it would be impossible to get a bill that would satisfy all.

He thinks it will be debated about two months in the senate; that there will be some minor changes, but the bill will pass substantially as it now stands. There will be a fight against the income tax feature, and against the abrogation of the reciprocity treaties, but he thinks both will be retained in the bill. There are enough Republicans, says Mr. Brice, voting with the Democrats to keep the income tax in the bill. Senator Brice said that the changes had been such as will prevent vigorous opposition. Senator Corman, of Maryland, said that he thought, with perhaps a few small changes, the bill would be likely to pass with the support of all the Democrats of the senate. He thought that it had now been changed, as he understood it, in such a way as had made it much more satisfactory than it was when it was first presented.

MR. GLADSTONE'S EYES.

An Oculist Believes an Operation Can be Made Without Danger.

LONDON, March 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Gladstone arrived in London this morning from Brighton. Mr. Gladstone appeared to be in good health and, after a brief rest at Downing, drove to a celebrated oculist's, where he had a special appointment in order that a further examination of his eyes might be made. It is understood that Dr. Battership, with whom Mr. Gladstone remained in consultation for three-quarters of an hour, believes that an operation may be performed without danger to the distinguished patient.

Six Women Drowned.

PATZCUARO, Mex., March 21.—While a boat load of persons living in this place were crossing Patzcuaro lake to the pueblo of Tzitzuc, the boat sprang a leak and before help could be given or the shore reached, six of the eighteen persons taking passage were drowned. The names of the drowned are impossible to obtain as yet, but it is known they were all young women.

Fire in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, March 21.—The repair shops of the Cleveland and Western railway, located on Pearl street, caught fire shortly after 4:40 o'clock this morning. All the valuable machinery which it contained, including several motors, was completely destroyed. The loss will aggregate about $50,000, covered by insurance.

Is Not a Member.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 21.—Rev. A. E. Taylor, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church here and who is well acquainted with the Breckinridge families, stated today that W. C. F. Breckinridge is not a member of the Northern Presbyterian church, nor connected with it in any way, and hence, as often stated by some of the newspapers, had no connection whatever with the trial of Mr. Briggs.

Murder of Brainerd.

BRainerd, Minn., March 21.—James McCabe, a saloonkeeper, better known as Farmer, shot a lumberman named T. Murray, at midnight. The two men were quarrelling over money and were separated by a friend when McCabe pulled out a revolver and shot Murray through the chest. Murray will die.

Will Hang on Friday.

OTTAWA, Ill., March 21.—Thomas Higgins, the Chicago murderer, who objects to being hanged on the same scaffold with Prendergast, the assassin of Mayor Harrison, today refused a super-sedeas by the supreme court. Higgins will therefore hang on Good Friday.

Letter for Ambassador.

New York, March 21.—The Evening Telegram's Washington dispatches say Hon. Andrew D. White is about to retire from the Russian mission; that the mission will be raised to the rank of an embassy and that Levi Z. Leiter, the Chicago millionaire, will be made ambassador to the court of St. Petersburg.

THEOSOPHISTS IN A ROW.

Serious Charges Against the Head of the American Society.

New York, March 21.—The adherents of theosophy are in commotion over the action of Col. H. S. Olcott, the recognized leader of the sect, in preferring charges against William Q. Judge, the head of the American society, of "misuse of the names and handwriting of the Mahatmas" or "Masters," and of "teaching tenets of theosophy not accepted by the adepts." In the letter which conveyed the news of the accusations, two alternatives were offered to Mr. Judge: First, to retire from all offices held in the Theosophical society and permit the publication of a general explanation, and second, to have the charges investigated by a judicial committee, convened according to the rules governing the society.

The first alternative Mr. Judge has declined to accept because he does not think a committee of the society ought to pass upon a doctrinal question, which has hitherto been left to the individual to settle with his own conscience.

"These charges are all trash, nonsense and rubbish," Mr. Judge said. "There is not a word of truth in them. I believe in the existence of the perfected Mahatmas, but it is ridiculous to say that I have made use of their alleged influence in my correspondence. As for performing miracles, there are no such things as miracles. The charges are flimsy and foolish, but I am very sorry they have been made."

A BRIDGE AT NEW YORK.

Measure to Give an Entrance for the Pennsylvania Road.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 21.—A measure intended to give the Pennsylvania railway an entrance into New York city, has been introduced into the assembly by Mr. Lawson, of New York. It provides for a construction of a bridge over the North river at New York.

The incorporators named in the bill are John Graham Hyatt, Charles H. Wosborne, of the company is the Interstate Hudson River Bridge company. The company is capitalized at $1,000,000.

The New York terminus of the bridge is to be between One Hundred and Seventy-ninth street and One Hundred and Eighty-fifth street. The measure provides for two spans, which are to be 180 feet high. The bridge is expected to be a duplicate of the Gould bridge over the Mississippi river at St. Louis.

JUMPED INTO THE SEA.

An Insane Man Wounded a Fellow Passenger and Then Suicided.

NEW YORK, March 21.—The steamer Anchoria, which arrived last night from Glasgow, reports March 16, at 7 a. m., James Melville, aged 30, a steamer passenger and an American citizen, in a momentary insanity, stabbed Charles Macklehorn, also a steamer passenger, causing a slight flesh wound. As soon as the ship's officers appeared, Melville rushed to the rail and jumped overboard. The ship was instantly stopped and a boat lowered, but after a search of one hour, the suicide could not be seen.

THE NEW JERSEY MUDDLE.

The Supreme Court Upsets the Contentions of the Democrats.

TRENTON, N. J., March 21.—The supreme court has decided that it has jurisdiction and can grant the writ of quo warranto asked for in the contested state senatorship case. The decision is long and the question of the title of the contesting senators has not yet been reached.

Chief Justice Beasley's opinion upsets the Democratic session argument of the Democrats.

Stole Confederate Money.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 21.—Charles F. Cule, 12 years of age, was arrested here yesterday while en route from Richmond, Va., to Chicago with $3000 of Confederate money. He was later released and proceeded on his journey. The boy proposes to sell the money in Chicago and lead a run away life from home in Richmond. The Confederate money has been in the family's possession since the war.

Leprosy in Kentucky.

NEW YORK, Ky., March 21.—What is believed to be a genuine case of leprosy in a family living in the suburbs of Bellevue, Ky., has been discovered. The victim is Harry Albury, aged 14 years. His condition is pitiable. He is a mass of sores all over and large patches of hair have fallen from his head. He has been afflicted for four years. It is said that this is the first case of leprosy that ever came under notice of Kentucky physicians.

Demoralized the System.

Last evening, during the disturbance of the electrical wires by the elements, Lieut. Donovan received a shock from the battery at police headquarters that knocked him down. Today the police alarm system is badly demoralized.

THE DEFENSE OPENED

Miss Pollard's Testimony Was Ended This Morning Without Any Explanations Being Considered Necessary.

She Proved Such an Excellent Witness That Her Attorneys at Once Rested the Case.

The Defense Was Then Outlined After the Defendant and Attorneys Had a Long Consultation.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Col. Breckinridge and his right-hand man, Attorney Ben Butterworth, were late in arriving in the circuit court, not appearing until after the roll call of jurors and until after Miss Pollard, with face very pale but apparently composed, had waited several minutes in her seat. The gray heads of the defendant and his leading lawyer were bent together in a brief consultation as Miss Pollard walked around the witness stand. Her face showed lines of worry and a sleepless night as she faced the audience for the fourth day.

Then Mr. Butterworth began by inquiring if Miss Pollard had the contract with James Rhodes to which she replied that the contract had been given to Rhodes. There never had been a settlement, but in 1885 she had given him a note for three times the amount he had advanced for her schooling. "I had never paid Mr. Rhodes, because I never had any money to pay anybody anything," she said. The correspondence had continued after she came to Washington. Mrs. Dr. Mary Logan had not recognized her when they first met at Cincinnati, but had before they had parted.

Miss Pollard was going on to explain about that meeting, when Mr. Butterworth cautioned her that she must not wander from the subject, protesting that he was anxious to treat her with perfect fairness.

"I beg your pardon, Mr. Butterworth," she replied. "I know you treat me fairly and I'm very grateful. I am so full of things I want to tell you I can't keep them back."

There was a short little tiff between Lawyers Butterworth and Wilson over the answering of questions after which Judge Bradley answered by declaring that the witness was not obliged to answer a question just in the form desired by the examiner.

Back to the autobiography in the New York World, came Mr. Butterworth. Objection was made by Mr. Wilson that it had been thrashed over to weariness and the same opinion was held by the judge.

"What was the fact about your adopting the name of Breckinridge?" asked Mr. Butterworth.

"When I first used the name, Mr. Breckinridge and I talked it over. He said I might use the name and I had my card plate made with it in 1885 or 1890," was the answer in explanation of the statement in the newspaper article. "I am very weary this morning and hardly able to go on. Nevertheless the plaintiff continued to be mistress of the situation, for when she had been asked about the trunk she had at Dr. Street's in Cincinnati during her first confinement, and Mr. Butterworth read from his manuscript, she insisted that he should give her undivided attention before she would continue. Great stress had been laid by the defense upon the description of this trunk, which seems to be important to their case.

"That's all, Miss Pollard," said Mr. Butterworth, to the surprise of the court. The plaintiff in black and Sister Ellis disappeared through the side door, her attorneys remarking that they had no use for her. "Then," said Mr. Carlisle, "the plaintiff rests her case here?"

The plaintiff had been under cross-fire for two days and over, during which every phase of her case had been reviewed from every light, but her attorneys did not consider it necessary to strengthen or explain any of her statement by re-direct examination. They had in reserve other witnesses and affidavits but these they did not use.

There was a rustling in the Breckinridge camp of conversation and documents, after which Attorney Butterworth asked for a few moments for his side for consultation, and the defendant, his son Desha, and five attorneys trooped out through the door by which Miss Pollard had made her exit. "The delegation from Kentucky retired for conference," remarked a gentleman who has attended political conventions.

The Breckinridge forces were in retirement twenty minutes. Then Col. John T. Shelby, the Lexington, Ky., law partner of Col. Breckinridge, a short man, with a light moustache, partly bald head and spectacles, faced the jury to outline the defense. While the case was technically one for breach of promise, he said, "it includes a wider scope. I am authorized by the defendant to say," he said, "and it will be corroborated by his solemn oath, that he did not seduce her; that it never was made known to him that she ever had any children by him until the filing of this suit last August, nor did he ever under any circumstances make any promises of marriage to her."

The defense did not intend, he said, to condone whatever was wrong in the relations of the two, and it was only by the truth that the defendant wanted to be judged.

He then outlined the defense, that all advances had been made by her and that no seductive means were used at their first meeting; that she was then 20 or 21 years old; that she told the colonel of the Rhodes contract and that she had illicit relations with Rhodes.

WILL MAKE A RECORD

The New Cruiser Minneapolis, Now Being Built, is Expected to be a World-Beater.

Is Almost an Exact Counterpart of the Columbia But Will Have Greater Speed.

The Men Employed on Her Construction Speak of Her as "The Twenty-four Knotter."

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—There are three government ships now undergoing the finishing process at Cramp's shipyard which they hope to turn to the navy by Oct. 1. They are the battleships Indiana and Massachusetts and the fast protected cruiser Minneapolis, the latter being a sister ship of the Columbia. The Massachusetts has been placed in the government dry dock at the League Island navy yard, where her screws may be placed in position. While in the docks the ship's bottom will be scraped and painted. In about three weeks the Massachusetts will be given her dock trial and on June 1, if all goes well, her unofficial trial trip will take place.

The Massachusetts is a sister ship to the Indiana which was tested so successfully two weeks ago. The latter ship goes into the drydock on Friday next and will be sent on her official trial trip off the coast of Massachusetts about May 1. These battle ships are built for stability and steadiness rather than speed. There is no doubt, however, that both will exceed the guarantee of fifteen knots an hour.

The ship that excites more interest than others now in the course of construction at the Cramp yard is the cruiser Minneapolis. This vessel is almost an exact counterpart of the Columbia, the difference being in the arrangement of the fire room, which gives the former more grate space and a slightly increased boiler power. The difference between the Minneapolis and two smokestacks, whereas the Columbia has four. Although the first trial trip of the Minneapolis will not take place until June 1, the men employed on her construction have already begun to speak of her as "the 24-knotter."

Almost everybody connected with the firm believes that the Minneapolis will be a world-beater, and that she will exceed the Columbia's unprecedented record of 23.8 knots by more than a knot. They argue that if the Columbia's boilers had not "foamed," thus necessitating a partial slow down at a critical moment, she would have exceeded twenty-three knots. Such an accident is not likely to happen to the Minneapolis, and her additional boiler power ought to mean additional speed. Altogether, there seems to be good reason to believe that the new cruiser will establish a record of nearly, if not quite twenty-four knots an hour.

Orders having been issued by the navy department placing the Columbia in commission on April 1, her builders have increased the already large force of workmen who are putting the finishing touches on her. All of her bottom deck guns are in position and the larger guns are expected here from Washington shortly. Today the cranes are busy cleaning her sides of the accumulation of grease and dirt. Tomorrow the painters will commence painting the ship, everything in sight to be the regulation white. When all is finished, the Columbia will present a beautiful appearance. The next ship to be launched at Cramp's is the American liner St. Louis. She will be followed by the St. Paul, her sister ship. The big battle ships Iowa and Brooklyn, which were launched later in the fall. When these are completed, the firm will have no more government work at its yard. An improvement contemplated in the near future is the enlargement of the dry dock. It is not large enough for the enormous vessels now being constructed at the yard, and for this reason the firm finds it necessary to use the big government dry dock at League Island.

MYSTERIES!

The Nervous System the Seat of Life and Mind. Recent Wonderful Discoveries.

No mystery has ever compared with that of the human life. It has been the leading subject of professional research and study in all ages. But notwithstanding this fact it is not generally known that the seat of the nervous system is the upper part of the spinal cord, near the base of the brain, and so sensitive to the slightest injury that the portion of the nervous system that even the slightest shock will cause instant death.

Recent discoveries have demonstrated that all the organs of the body are under the control of the nervous centers, located in or near the base of the brain, and that when these are deranged the organs which they supply with nerve fluid are also deranged. It is a well known fact that a serious injury to the spinal cord will cause paralysis of the body below the injured point, because the nerve force prevented by the injury from reaching the paralyzed portion, will be understood how the derangement of the nervous centers will cause the derangement of the various organs which they supply with nerve force.

Two-thirds of all cases of paralysis are due to the imperfect action of the nervous centers at the base of the brain, not from a derangement of the nerves themselves, but from the derangement of the nervous centers in the brain. The great mistake of physicians in treating these diseases is to treat the organs rather than the nerve centers which are the cause of the trouble.

Dr. FRANKLIN MILLER, the celebrated specialist, has profoundly studied this subject for over 20 years, and has made many important discoveries in connection with the nervous system being the facts contained in the above statement, and that the ordinary treatment is wrong. All headache, dizziness, deafness, confusion, pressure, blues, mania, melancholy, insanity, epilepsy, St. Vitus dance, etc., are nervous diseases no matter how caused. The wonderful success of Dr. Miller's Restorative Nerve Tonic is due to the fact that it is based on the latest scientific discoveries. Dr. Miller's Restorative Nerve Tonic is sold by druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by Dr. FRANKLIN MILLER, C. E. Richards, Inc., on receipt of $1.00 per bottle. It contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

LOUIS KOSSUTH DEAD.

The Aged Hungarian Patriot Died at Turin Late Last Night.

TURIN, March 21.—Louis Kossuth died at 10:55 last evening. Kossuth's end was extremely painful. He showed signs of consciousness until the last. He expired in the arms of his son, and died pressing the hand of the Hungarian deputy, Karolyi. The members of his family and a few of his intimate friends stood around the bedside of the expiring patriot.

The municipal authorities have placed themselves entirely at the disposal of the Kossuth family for the funeral to the distinguished patriot. The authorities expressed the desire that the remains be buried in the Pantheon, in which many of the illustrious dead of Italy have their last resting place. But the family has decided to remove the remains to Hungary, and together with the remains of his wife and daughter, which are interred in the English cemetery at Genoa, they will be escorted to Buda Pesth, where it is expected they will be given a public funeral.

WANT TO GET ACTION

Senators Anxious to Get Pet Measures Considered Before the Tariff Bill is Brought In.

Democratic Members of the Finance Committee Desire to Push the Tariff With All Speed.

If There is Any Indication of Prolonging the Debate, the Sessions Will Be Extended.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Several senators are anxious to get action on bills in which they are interested, or which they have in charge, before the tariff bill is brought in and made the unfinished business in that body. There are several bills of interest to the District of Columbia before the senate, and members of the district committee have been endeavoring to have them passed.

The bill providing a new or enlarged government printing office has been up and discussed for several days and laid aside from time to time. Senator Vest, who has the bill in charge, has been so busy with the tariff that he has not had the opportunity to press it, and it has awaited a time when he might give it full attention.

Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota, has had on his desk for several days the Russian thistle bill, which has received considerable of an airing in the house committee on agriculture and which he is trying to call up. He thinks it would also interest very soon to bring it to his consideration. If it waits for the tariff bill, there is no telling when he will get another chance.

Senator Teller has given notice that he will call up the McGarran bill Thursday. It is understood that while the tariff bill is being considered in the senate, the house will probably dispose of all the appropriation bills, and it is likely that most of them will be reported back and ready for consideration in the senate before the tariff bill is disposed of. These bills, like the tariff bill, will have the right of way, and will be liable to be shelved out of all measures except such as are unobjectionable.

The Democratic members of the finance committee desire to push the tariff with all speed, and it is probable that after the bill has been discussed for a week or two, they will ask that it be considered during the next two hours after the senate meets in the morning, which is usually devoted to morning business and to bills of minor importance. It is very probable, however, that two weeks, after the bill is taken up, to lengthen the hours of the session and begin at 11 o'clock in the forenoon instead of 12. If there is any disposition on the part of the opponents of the bill to prolong the discussion, or indications that speeches were being made for the purpose of delay, then the hours are to be still further increased.

It is not probable, however, that any attempt at extraordinary length of sessions will be proposed, as long as there is legitimate debate, and senators have speeches to make. It is well known, however, as long as the finance committee continue to push the bill, it will be next to impossible to transact other business which will take any time, and there is now a rush to get through with pending legislation. It is probable that the tariff bill will take its place in the senate until adjournment on Monday, until the tariff bill is disposed of.

The house committee on invalid pensions is devoting some attention to a bill which makes it unlawful for any person to willfully communicate or cause to be communicated to United States officials performing duties connected with pensions, any false statement, with intent to defraud or suspend the granting payment of pensions to any pensioner, or apply the bill to the case of a pensioner. The bill was introduced by Chairman Martin.

THE COPELAND PRACTICE

It is Not a Money-Making Practice Where People Are Charged Exorbitant Fees for Services Rendered.

It has been shown in these columns that while the Copeland practice is not, either in intention or in fact, a money-making practice, it is, nevertheless, self-sustaining and affords people, all classes, rich or poor alike, the opportunity of obtaining the best medical skill at the least possible expense. It is the purpose of the founders to maintain it and increase it on the same basis that it was built upon originally—simply to make it a self-supporting practice. Whatever benefit the public may derive from the work will be remuneration enough for them—for the efforts made.

MR. OUSMAN'S CASE.

Arne Ousman is a well known resident of Duluth, residing at 320 Third avenue east. He suffered from an aggravated catarrh of the nose and throat till he was cured by the Copeland physicians. When questioned in regard to his case he will willingly submit to an interview for publication. The following is a list of the symptoms as he gave them:

Frontal headaches. Pain across the eyes. Pain and soreness in back of neck. Throat sore and irritable. Drooping of mucous in throat. Throat filled with slimy mucus. "Croupy" cough and spitting. Voice hoarse all the while. Soreness in chest under the breastbone. Incessant cough in morning. Occasionally shooting pains throughout body.

"After having been treated by the Copeland physicians," said Mr. Ousman, "I feel entirely relieved of the symptoms enumerated above and will always recommend the doctors to whoever may be afflicted with similar troubles, and thoroughly satisfied with the treatment in every respect."

Skin Diseases.

In nothing, perhaps, is the advance of the healing art more manifest than in the successful treatment of distressing cutaneous diseases. Psoriasis, eczema, acne, pimples, blackheads and other skin affections now yield readily to improved methods. Cases of long standing, which have defied the efforts of all other means, are especially invincible.

A Trial Free.

To chronic sufferers from any curable disease, the Copeland physicians offer a trial treatment free. All who apply in person will be examined, advised and treated, on first visit, without charge.

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage which was duly executed and delivered by William F. Wright (mortgagor), mortgagee to James M. McFarlane, mortgagee, bearing date the first (1st) day of October, A. D. 1891, and with a power of sale in case of such default therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds, and as for the county of St. Louis, and state of Minnesota, on the twenty-ninth (29th) day of October, A. D. 1891, at two o'clock and forty minutes P. M., in book 48 of mortgages, on pages 491, 492 and 493, which said mortgage and the principal note thereby secured contain provisions that if any default be made in the payment of any installment of interest thereon, or of any part thereof, on the day whereon the same is made payable, and if such default shall continue for a period of ten days, then and in any such case, the said mortgage shall become due and payable, and all accrued interest thereon, shall immediately become due and payable, and may be foreclosed by the mortgagee, or his assigns, or legal representatives.

And whereas default has been made in the payment of the semi-annual installment of interest on said note and mortgage, due January 1st, 1891, amounting to the sum of one hundred and sixty ($160.00) dollars, the payment of which was secured by said mortgage, and such default has continued for a period of more than ten days after the same became due and payable, inasmuch as the said mortgage has elected to exercise said option, and has heretofore duly declared, and does hereby declare, the whole principal sum secured by said note and mortgage, with all accrued interest thereon, to be due and payable.

And whereas there is therefore claimed to be due and there is actually due, upon said mortgage debt, at the date of this notice, the sum of four thousand two hundred and eighty ($4,280.00) dollars, principal, interest, and exchange, and seventy-five dollars attorney's fees, stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure thereof; and whereas no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: Let the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt and interest, and fifty dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage, and in and covered by said mortgage, and the disbursement allowed by law, which said sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis county, Minnesota, on the 5th day of April, A. D. 1891, at ten o'clock A. M., of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale, as provided by law. From the day of sale as provided by law. Dated February 27th, A. D. 1891.

the late W. J. Florence and Mrs. John Drew appeared together, and the portraits of these great artists are found in Part IV. But these photographs are also

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
March 21.—The barometer has fallen decidedly
in the upper lake region and a rough of low pressure extends thence southward to cross. This in connection with the advance of an area of high pressure from the coast
north of Montana, has resulted in a general
trig gradient over the Upper Missouri valley.

The weather has been generally clear, but clouds with rain or snow is elsewhere
generally reported. Heavy snows have fallen in Eastern Montana, and the Dakotas and heavy rains in the upper lake region.
In Manitoba, the Dakotas and the middle plateau region the temperature has generally fallen 10 to 20 degrees, and the lake region
central valleys and the lake region.
Duluth temperature, 8 a. m. today,
32 degrees; maximum 31 degrees; minimum
28 degrees.

Duluth, March 21.—Local forecast until 8
p. m. tomorrow: Rain, changing to snow;
10 a. m. fair; Thursday, decidedly colder; Thursday morning and evening; northeast to northwest winds.

JAMES KENEALY,
Local Forecast Officer.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Forecast for thirty-
six hours to 9 p. m. Thursday: For Wisconsin, rain or snow today and tonight, probably fair
Thursday morning, cold waves; westerly winds beginning northwesterly. For Minnesota, fair Thursday, fair Friday; westerly winds; rain
beginning Saturday morning and evening; northwest to northwesterly winds.

Filling the Offices.
A writer in the St. Paul Globe a few days ago complained that the Republican postmasters were not turned out fast enough to suit some of the Democratic workers who are getting hungry for the offices which they thought would be their very soon after President Cleveland entered the White House. No doubt there are many Republicans still in the postoffice business, but it must be remembered that there are many thousands of postoffices and it takes considerable time to make the changes. Besides this, there are many postmasters whose terms have not expired, and surely the Democrats would not have Grover violate the civil service reform idea that officeholders should only be removed for good cause. Political belief is not a "good cause," in the judgment of the civil service reformers.

But, notwithstanding these statements,
it must be confessed that the president
is doing quite well in chopping off Republican heads and distributing "the loaves and fishes" among the hungry Democrats. The records show that he has been quite diligent in the performance of this work. More than one-half of the whole number of presidential postoffices have been filled by nominations sent to the senate since the incoming of the present administration. This fact is brought out in a comparative statement prepared at the postoffice department. It is shown that the number of these appointments by the last administration from March 4, 1889, to March 12, 1892, was 1658. There were thirty-two presidential appointments made on March 13, 1892. The number made by this administration between March 4, 1893, and March 13, 1894, was 1720. The total number of presidential postoffices in operation March 12 last,
was 3124.

Figures of appointments of fourth class
postmasters for the former Cleveland
administration and the Harrison administration are given on the basis of sixteen months, as official statements are compiled once the fiscal year, and the period from March 4 to July 1 of the first year of each administration. For the twelve months of the present administration the number of changes in fourth class postmasters was 22,012.

The changes for the sixteen months
ending June 30, 1896, aggregated 20,831.
For the first sixteen months of the Harrison administration, the number was 24,- 645, and the monthly average of appointments of both presidential and fourth class postmasters during the Harrison administration was 1616 and for the present administration 1977. From this it will be seen that the Democratic officeholders have no reason to kick. They must be patient.

A Remarkable Plea.
The Rev. John R. Paxton, of New York, who is one of the leading and most popular clergymen of the metropolitan, appears to entertain queer ideas of morality. This fact is shown by his recent statements regarding Congressman Breckinridge. Dr. Paxton, it will be remembered, is the clergyman who performed the secret marriage of Col.
Breckinridge and Mrs. Wing and violated the law by failing to send a certificate of the marriage to the proper official within ten days.

Dr. Paxton has been defending the colonel's actions in regard to Miss Pollard, or rather he has been making a plea in extenuation of his offenses. He proposes to stand by Congressman Breckinridge because the latter is "merely suffering with a constitutional weakness," he contends, "Mr. Breckinridge," he says, "has very high ideas
of chivalry and honor. This causes him to worship all womankind. It is impossible for an attractive woman to cross
his path without his paying court to her.
If he ruined this young Pollard girl it was simply due to a constitutional weakness which he could not resist. It is a disease just like kleptomania."

This is a most remarkable plea, which would not be astonishing if it came from some notorious rascal, but which is a shocking statement on the part of a minister of the gospel. "High ideas of chivalry and honor" have not usually been supposed to go hand in hand with the ruin of young girls, and if Col. Breckinridge is afflicted with a disease of this kind, he should be placed in some reformatory, as is done in the case of those whose position in society entitles them to be considered kleptomaniacs instead of common, vulgar thieves.

Dr. Paxton has disgraced the ministry
by giving utterance to such a shocking
plea, which might with equal truthfulness
be made in behalf of any wretch,
white or colored, who has been hanged
by an indignant mob for criminal assault.
The doctor's moral ideas appear to be perverted and diseased.

The Grand Seigniorage Bill.
It is strange that President Cleveland
should hesitate to veto the Grand seignior-
age bill, because heretofore he has been regarded as a man who would not
that would inflame the currency in accordance with the silver monetarists'
ideas and this bill is a vicious measure of that character. It attacks the public credit and by signing it Mr. Cleveland would make a complete surrender to the single silver standard men.

The Winona Herald says it favors this bill, because it believes in increased currency. Does it not know that the banks are now filled to overflowing with currency, that there is no lack of money
but that those who own it refuse to put it into circulation by making investments
in realty and business enterprises, on account of such assaults as the seignior-
age bill upon the public credit?

This bill would coin $55,000,000 of bullion which is now pledged to the redemption of treasury notes. The silver bulletion in the treasury cost the country $125,000,000 while its present market value is only about $84,000,000, so that it represents a loss of $41,000,000. Where then is the seigniorage? There is a worse feature of the measure. It also provides that the secretary of the treasury may, in his discretion, if the needs
of the treasury demand it, issue silver
certificates in excess of such coinage,
provided that said excess shall not exceed the amount of the seigniorage as herein authorized to be coined." This means that $55,000,000 of certificates may be issued in excess of the coinage, thus thrusting $110,000,000 of fiat money upon the country. There is no valid defense for such an assault upon the nation's credit and President Cleveland will disappoint every friend of honest money if he fails to veto this measure?

The Indiana supreme court has decided that the ordinance passed by the Indianapolis city council in 1891, requiring out-of-town breweries to pay a tax of $1000 for the privilege of doing business in that city, is valid. Certainly it is but just to the local breweries that pay heavy taxes upon their property and business that outsiders should not be given an advantage.

This is how the Minneapolis Journal
accounts for the opening of navigation
here so early in the season: "A Duluth man placed a dynamite cartridge in his oven, neglecting to close the oven door.
The house has built on the side hill and the result was that the 'cartridge' fell out of the oven into the lake and the explosion broke up the ice and opened navigation."

Louis Kosuth, the Hungarian patriot,
is dead at last, having lived long beyond
the usual limit of man's existence on earth. His death has been falsely reported several times in recent years, but there is no doubt about the present report.

Gentlemen:—I think Hood's Sarsaparilla
has no equal. It has been used in our family
a good many years. My mother, Mrs. Benjamin Sellers, came here from England thirteen years ago, and has not been in good health for a long time. Every spring and fall she was so sick and worn out that she had to stay in bed. She suffered from indigestion; in fact could hardly eat anything.
She began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and in a few days she was able to get up and move about. She is now as healthy as a young girl."

politicians who are counted as anti-Washington men. The senator may soon find it necessary to again repair his finances in his home country.

An Olmsted county farmer claims to have found "free gold" in large quantities on his farm. This is better than being afflicted with the "free silver"

more value in it.

The annual inspection of the Minne-

to say that the Duluth companies will

An article on "The Home Life of Mrs.
Lease" appears in an Eastern magazine.
As Mrs. Lease is seldom at home, the writer must have drawn heavily upon his imagination.

P. H. Kelly is being mentioned as the probable Democratic candidate for mayor of St. Paul, and there is no denying the fact that he has great personal strength.

Mrs. Lease says that Governor Waite, of Colorado, is erratic. It is a case of Reads Like a Hint.

Stillwater Gazette: If our United States senators were elected by the people there would be as many of the boys who are so over-anxious to be elected representatives. The fact that a United States senator is to be elected at the next session of our legislature is said to be one reason why a certain man in our city is laying his plans to go to the legislature. But the people of the Second and Third wards will endeavor
to see that he is kept at home.

Out It Short.
Princeton Union: When should the Republican state convention be held?
Several of the state papers favor an early convention, not later than July 1. Others insist that the first week in September is the proper time. The sooner the agency is over the better.

Will Shake the Professionals.
St. Peter Herald: The Hon. Loren Fletcher, of Minneapolis, says that the time has about arrived when college people
will discard the professional politicians
and choose for their servants honest, conservative business men. We trust that his prediction will be verified. The country has needed such a change for a good many years.

A Chance for a Good Man.
Minneapolis Times: The Wadena
Tribune is looking for a good, clean man
to come forward and announce his candidacy for the senate. If the good, clean gentleman has the temerity to come forward he would do well to appear in a clean shirt.

A Word for Lind.
Fulda Republican: A good many of this district's Republican papers are nominating John Lind for senator to succeed Washburn. Lind is our choice
every time. The Worthington Advance says: "John Lind should be the next nominee for governor." This is not good enough for Lind, we want to see his title as Senator Lind.

A WEIGHY PROBLEM

The Collection of the Vast Debt Due the Government From the Various Pacific Railroads.

The Amount Involved Is About $135,000,000 and Its Collection Requires Careful Action by Congress.

House Committee Will Give Hearings to All Interested and Try to Reach a Wise Decision.

WASHINGTON, March 22.—Conspicuous attention of late has been given to the Pacific railway question owing to the numerous means suggested for the collection of the vast debt due the government from the various Pacific roads. Concerning the subject, Representative Reilly, of Pennsylvania, chairman of the house committee on Pacific railroads, said today:

"I consider this as one of the most important questions before congress, not excepting the tariff and finance. But the very importance of the question demands that it should be treated with deliberation. The amount involved is about $135,000,000, and the proper protection of the government and the collection of such a sum requires the most deliberate and careful action on the part of congress.

"The construction of these roads is undoubtedly one of the great achievements of the age, but with all its complicating environments, by way of legislation and judicial decisions, it comes down to us as one of the war measures, the original legislation having been enacted during the exciting days of the war of the rebellion, and now that we are confronted with the solution of this great problem, owing to the rapid approach of the maturity of this enormous debt, and the necessity for some legislation, the importance of the subject is at once apparent. But at the outset we are confronted with all these complications of laws and decisions covering a period of years, and the subject is of as great magnitude as any question with which congress has had to deal during recent years.

"We have arrived at a stage in the history of this transaction when legislation of some character is absolutely necessary, and previous legislation on the subject has been deferred awaiting the approach of the maturity of this debt, when the situation and its necessities could be better understood, and more wisely considered. The first installment of the bonds issued by the government in aid of the construction of these roads falls due in January 1895, and must be provided for during the next fiscal year. As the secretary of the treasury calls the attention of congress to it in his recent annual report, the subject will be maturing from that date during the next four years. The first installment of bonds amounts to $2,555,000, and is payable yearly, and hence the necessity of legislation in this respect.

"The committee on Pacific railroads, made up of some of the strongest men in the house, are giving the subject their most earnest consideration and feel it their duty to frame and report some satisfactory legislation. Several bills bearing on the subject are before the committee. In considering these and all other measures, our only purpose is to protect the interests of the government, and to that end the subject will be pressed to final action at the earliest possible day.

"But the magnitude and importance of the subject necessarily requires and demands the most careful and deliberate research and consideration. The committee expect to have hearings by all parties interested and to exercise their most earnest efforts to arrive at a just solution of this great problem. What conclusion the committee may arrive at, or the character of legislation they may determine to report, it is too early to predict. One thing is certain, however, that the committee fully appreciate the gravity of the responsibility imposed on it and intends to meet it fully with an eye to securing the best possible

The Human Electrical Forces

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. The nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to sustain their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be termed the "nerve of life," as it is the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the diagram, the nerve force descends from the base of the brain and terminates in the bowels. The pneumogastric nerve, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way affected by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of the nerve fluid, but treat the organs instead of the cause of the trouble. The great specialist, Dr. J. M. Smith, of N. Y., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to him. Dr. Smith's Restorative Nervine, the world-famous brain and nerve tonic, is a preparation of the principle that all nervous and many other ailments, originate from a weakness of the nerve fluid. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, faintness, loss of vitality, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by Dr. J. M. Smith, N. Y., or Dr. E. H. Smith, N. Y., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

CHANG, THE CHECKER PLAYER.

A New York Automaton That Plays Remarkable Chess and Checkers. A new automaton chess and checker player called Chang, after the Chinese sign of that name, has just made his appearance at a New York museum. He seems to be a soulless and brainless as his famous Hindu predecessor, Ajeeb, but he plays even a stronger game of chess and checkers than that well-known expert. There is a tripod in his breast through which any one may look apparently and convince himself that Chang is simply filled with wires and machinery, and Chang is moved around the room and wound up after every game to increase the observer's belief that the automaton plays without the aid of any human agency.

This belief seems well warranted by a careful examination of Chang, but for all that there is a strong suspicion prevalent that there must be and is a gentleman, col ored or otherwise, in this automaton woodpile. Chang is made of wood and steel wire, with head and hands of wax. Chang's hand moves as intelligently as a human hand—more intelligently, in fact, than the majority of human hands that play against him. He picks up a checker or a chessman, places it where he wants it or drops it into a basket after he has taken it with the nonchalance of a veteran human expert. If Chang nods his head once, his attendants explain that he is sure he will win the game, and when he is in a tight place he moves his head sideways as an indication that his wits and machinery are chock full of consternation over the outlook.

When he wins, he makes three polite bows, and one can imagine that he is chuckling inwardly. A short time ago New York checker sharps were beating Chang, and the management secured the services of Dr. A. Schaefer, who is considered a master of the "silent game." It is to be presumed that the doctor gave Chang many valuable "inside pointers," for Chang is now almost invincible as a checker player.

Paul Morphy's Chessman.

Probably the finest set of chessmen ever made was the set presented to Paul Morphy in 1850 by friends in New York city and Brooklyn, which is now owned by a New York merchant, says The Mail and Express. The pieces are of solid gold and silver, carved and chased in exquisite designs, and are mounted on a base of red cornelian, the gold pieces representing civilization, the silver ones barbarism. The gold king is a statuette 2½ inches high, weighing three ounces, is in royal robes, bears an imperial globe upon his head, a sword and shield in his hand, while the bishops are all in full panoply, while the knights are represented as prancing horses with eyes of rubies.

The castle follows the Chinese design, being an elephant bearing a howdah, on which is perched an eagle with outspread wings. Both elephant and bird have eyes of brilliant rubies. The piece weighs five ounces, or as much as $8 gold dollars. The pawns are statuette 2½ inches high, representing Roman soldiers. The silver pieces are equally ornate in design. The king is represented as a leader like Attila, wearing a bull's hide and winged helmet, while his shield bears the inscription "Liberty." The other pieces are similar in design to the gold, except that the pawns are rude warriors armed with clubs.

The board has a body of rosewood inlaid with silver. The squares are of mother of pearl and ebony. In each corner is a laurel wreath of gold encircling the letters P. M. An inscription on one side reads as follows: "To Paul Morphy. A recognition of his genius and a testimony of regard. From his friends and admirers in New York and Brooklyn. New York, 1850."

On the other side of the board is a list of the 14 champions, all from the different countries, whom Morphy had defeated. In every detail the set is finished as finely as possible, the figures being chased under a microscope. It was made by a New York firm of silversmiths and cost $2,500. It was presented to Morphy, fresh from his European triumphs, in the chapel of the University of the City of New York, John Van Buren, son of the president, making the presentation speech. After Morphy's death it was sold with his effects in New York and so came back to New York city.

Another New York Stock Company.

The plans of the Rosenfeld brothers, who have secured all the time at the Fifth Avenue theater, New York, for one year, with the exception of a few short bookings which had been made prior to the signing of their contract, are of a somewhat ambitious nature. According to this rumor, it is their purpose, starting in with light plays, to gradually make more important productions, with the ultimate object of getting together a first class stock company. Then they will either hire or build a theater. These men have money, inclination and a thorough knowledge of the theatrical profession. To them we are indebted for having secured the Elmhurst house, the Little Theatre and the Metropolitan company, and they have a way of succeeding in almost everything they undertake. Their first production is "Love's Labor's Lost," an adaptation from the French by Dr. Rodrigues Ottoboni, of this city.

Sporting Notes.

The total amount of money distributed by racing associations in this country last year was $5,231,140.

Maxon McCormick declares that Corbett is the best man the American ring has ever known and head and shoulders above any fighter in the foreign ring today, Peter Jackson not excluded.

Harry Hill, the veteran sportsman, is in want.

Young Griffin and Billy Plimmer are the latest featherweights that can "surely whip George Dixon." The colored wonder has already knocked out a dozen of these ones.

The payroll of the New York Baseball club for the coming season is about $55,000. Captain Ward will receive $5,500.

IRON TRADE REVIEW.

The Volume of Business Slowly Increasing But the Low Prices Still Continue to Prevail.

However, Business Appears to Be Done On a Safer Basis All Along the Line.

Starting of the Illinois Steel Works at South Chicago Shows Improvement in the West.

CLEVELAND, March 22.—The Iron Trade Review this week says: "The situation in iron and steel, in a nutshell, is this: In the central West the volume of business is fully maintained, and is perhaps slowly increasing; in the South a moderate movement of pig iron in small lots at lower prices; in the East the lowest prices, yet no perceptible increase in demand, further curtailment of the orders of local mills by favoring freights on East bound material."

"While there is no certainty as to the life of the reductions, the iron trade looks upon them as paving the way for more permanent reductions, though it is not to be expected that the rates which are to follow the temporary schedules will be as low as the latter."

"The starting of the South Chicago works of the Illinois Steel company is the chief sign of improvement in the Western situation contained in our Chicago report. All along the line, business appears to be done on a safer basis and there is rather more cash buying."

QUEEN LIL TO LECTURE.

Will Make a Tour of America and Retire Her Grievances.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 22.—Dr. J. A. Houser, of this city, announces that he is about closing negotiations with ex-Queen Lil Lukinaki for a lecture tour of the United States. Mr. Houser wrote to the ex-queen six weeks ago offering to manage a tour for her, and he says the reply indicates that she will accept the proposition made.

"We shall begin the tour in San Francisco," said he, "as soon as the queen desires to come over. I will be there to meet her, and from that city we will make a prolonged tour of the whole country, visiting all cities of considerable size. I have arranged for the queen to wear a crown on the stage, and she will present precisely the same appearance that she does at Honolulu."

POISONED BY A DOMESTIC.

A Woman and Her Son Murdered by a Discharged Servant.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 22.—Later developments in the death last Friday of Mrs. Rosa Brown and her son, George, are most sensational. Mrs. Brown had employed a domestic named Francis Molinsky, who had been discharged at the request of Dr. Driess, a druggist, identified Francis as having called at his store Friday to purchase strychnine. Detectives have secured additional evidence, and the girl is now confined in the county jail charged with the double murder.

Death of a Maine Crank.

AUBURN, Me., March 22.—Elias Gove, the self-styled immortal, died peacefully, who for years has been a picturesque figure in the streets of Auburn, is dead at the age of 85. In all kinds of weather he was to be seen in the streets dressed in white cotton trousers, red broadcloth cape overcoat, and a picturesque hat. He carried a palm leaf fan and an old umbrella. He was never out of doors without them.

SWINDLED BY AN AMERICAN.

An Austrian Banker Lost His Daughter and $30,000 in Hard Cash.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Banker Endorf, of Austria, is in New York, in search of a young man, who is wanted in a number of European cities. His name is Ker and his operations were of a large scale and uniformly successful, and his last one caused him to flee to the United States.

About three months ago Banker Endorf, one of the solid bankers of the Austrian capital, met at his club a handsome young man, who was introduced to him as Mr. Armstrong, of Chicago. The two men were attracted to each other and soon became confidential.

Then Mr. Armstrong told the banker that he was in reality Richard Vanderbilt, a grandson of W. H. Vanderbilt, and that he was to remain in exile. He was charmed and invited the young Cressus to his house. The invitation was accepted, Vanderbilt went to the banker's house and at once seemed to fall in love with Freda, his beautiful daughter.

Endorf rubbed his hands in glee when he heard which seemed to be the prospect. But his joy lasted only a short time. Three weeks ago Vanderbilt and Freda fled from Endorf's home taking the equivalent of $30,000 in good hard cash with them. The girl had yielded to her lover's solicitation and cast her lot without the marriage form.

MAY BE LYNCHED.

The Author of an Atrocious Murder in Indiana Being Pursued.

HAMMOND, Ind., March 22.—An atrocious murder was committed at Toletson Tuesday evening. The victims are James Conroy and William Cleary, who were employed as watchmen in the Toletson Shoring grounds.

The men in some way became involved in a quarrel with Albert Tooker, and were getting the best of the argument when Tooker drew a pistol and fired six shots, killing both men. Tooker escaped, but will be lynched if captured.

Renounced the Priesthood.

NEW YORK, March 22.—It is announced that Father Lambert, one of the leading missionaries of the Redemptionist order of the Roman Catholic church, has renounced the priesthood and withdrawn from the church. He addressed the letter to the superior in Rome stating that his action was dictated by the voice of conscience.

The Land of Promise

Is the mighty West, the land that "tickled with a hoe laughs a harvest; the El Dorado of the miner; the goal of the agricultural migrant. While it teems with all the elements of wealth and prosperity, some of the fairest and most fruitful portions of it bear a harvest of malaria reaped in its fullness by those unprotected by a medical safeguard.

No one seeking or dwelling in a malarial locality is safe from the scourge without Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Emigrants bear this in mind. Commercial travelers sojourning in malarious regions should carry a bottle in their trunks for the traditional grippack. Against the effects of exposure, mental or bodily overwork, damp and unwholesome food or water, it is an infallible defense. Consumption, rheumatism, biliousness, dyspepsia, nervousness and loss of strength are all remedied by this genial restorative.

W. J. Florence in Part IV. "The Marie Burroughs Art Portfolio of Stage Celebrities" is a high-toned collection. Not a single picture in it that can be properly termed a "cheapie." It is a complete set of the most famous people of the stage. Its execution is most artistic, and it is a marvel of elegance and merit. The price is trifling—only one cent to ten cents at The Evening Herald office, or three coupons and 12 cents if ordered by mail.

Local Forecast Officer.

An Impracticable Scheme.

The Herald has refrained from saying
very much about the impracticability and absurdity of the scheme, which is being industriously agitated by some residents of the Twin Cities, to construct a waterway from Lake Superior to the Mississippi river. It has refrained from criticizing the scheme, for the reason that its motives would have been misconstrued by St. Paul and Minneapolis as an expression of Duluth opposition to the enterprise because it would benefit the Twin Cities at the expense of this city. Of course this would not be the result of such a waterway, if it could be constructed, but as the Twin City
people believe it would, any opposition
by Duluth to the scheme would be ascribed to that reason.

An article in the Minneapolis Tribune,
however, affords The Herald an opportunity of pointing out the absurdity of the scheme. The Tribune's article was prompted by a letter by a prominent railroad man of the Twin Cities criticizing
the project and claiming that an air line railroad connecting Duluth and Superior and Minneapolis and St. Paul can be built and equipped for $3,000,000,
which can profitably haul coal for 50 cents per ton. The gentleman advocates that the municipalities of Minneapolis and St. Paul build the road jointly. The Minneapolis paper admits the force of this gentleman's criticism. The only canal route which would be of any benefit to Minneapolis is via the St. Lawrence river to Sandy lake and the upper Mississippi, above Aitkin,
and thence down the Mississippi to the Twin Cities—a distance of 330 miles.
"The practical question," says the Tribune, "is, what will it cost to construct this canal of 330 miles in length, extend
it over a dividing wall which is 550 feet
above Lake Superior and 568 feet above
St. Paul, and insure a volume of water for the entire distance sufficient to float
a large lake vessel?"

The Suez canal is eighty-eight miles
long, lies on a dead level with no dividing walls of 550 feet to cross, and cost $90,000,000. The Lachine canal in Canada is only eight and a half miles long,
has a total rise of lockage aggregating
forty-five feet and cost over $8,000,000.
The Welland canal, over twenty-seven miles long and with a total lockage of 346 feet, cost $12,000,000. The Welland has twenty-seven locks, and it is estimated that the proposed canal from Cloquet to Lake Superior would require thirty locks at least. The Manchester ship canal, thirty-five miles long and
with no mountainous divides to cross,
cost $75,000,000. The Erie canal cost over $50,000,000, and it is estimated the Nicaragua canal, covering less than one-half the distance from Lake Superior to the Mississippi, will cost $100,000,000.

So much for cost of construction.
There is another important point, and that is the cost of operating such a waterway as is proposed. Every lock means an addition to the freight charges. The lockages between Lake Superior and St.
Paul would be so numerous that it would be cheaper to ship by rail than by this waterway. Another point, if the canal were built, where would the water be obtained to float a vessel drawing twenty feet or even fourteen feet? The Minneapolis paper says it does not desire to throw "cold water upon the big ditch project." If it has any cold water to spare it should throw it at once. Water is what "the big ditch" needs.

Increased Gold Production.

The great decline in the price of silver in recent years and the inability of the mine owners to induce congress to the free coinage policy has had the effect of turning more attention to gold production. The result is a great increase in the production of the more valuable metal. Men have been spurred on to more extensive searches for gold,
and within the past few months there
have been reports of valuable discoveries in various parts of the country, including the northern portion of Minnesota. There seems to be no doubt of the existence of gold in paying quantities in the Rainy Lake region, and the best evidence of this is the development of a stamp mill by a company composed of an old and experienced gold miner and several others who have looked the ground over carefully. There may be a considerable production of gold in that district this year. Work in the same line in Colorado and Idaho is being pushed with very profitable results.

These remarks are prompted by an estimate of the gold production throughout the world for the calendar year 1893,
just issued by the director of the mint.
The figures which have just been received verify the estimate of $150,000,000
made early in the year. The gold production of 1893, as revised in the last report of the mint bureau, was $138,861, 000. The increase of $11,000,000 will be mainly furnished by the United States, South Africa and Russia. The figures for the United States, although not yet quite complete, indicate an increase of $1,000,000 over those for 1892; the increase in South Africa will be about $6, 000,000; in Russia about $500,000 and in Australia about $500,000. There will be small gains in other countries, including China and Japan, but they may be offset
by small losses elsewhere.

The returns from Russia and Australia
are not yet complete and may show an even larger increase than has been estimated by Mint Director Preston. The reports which are constantly reaching the treasury department indicate the production of gold is being pushed to its maximum, that improved processes of extracting the metal will be used to their utmost limit to increase the output for 1894. Gold to the value of $60,000
was deposited within a day or two at the Denver mint, and like deposits are likely to come at frequent intervals during
the remainder of the year.

The governor and lecturer who spoke of President Cleveland as "afflicted with the Sherman law and disappointed with two girl babies" is thus answered in a New York paper: "Girl babies are at a premium. Their sex furnishes but a very small fraction of the paupers and criminals of the country and much less than half the idiots. They are quite as likely to be carrying off the honors at the universities and going into partnership with their fathers in business."

One of the most important questions which congress will be called upon to settle in the near future is the collection
of the vast sums of money due the government by the Pacific railroad. The first installment will be due next January. The roads are manifestly unable to pay it. What, then, shall be done?
Shall the government enforce its claim
at once or grant an extension? It is a great problem to decide on the best plan.

The reports of the iron trade this week are encouraging. There is no particular liveliness about the market, but there is some business being done, and that is more than could be said several weeks ago. More cash buying is noted, and business is being transacted on a safer basis. The speculative spirit has been crushed out of many men by the depression. They are more conservative than formerly.

Ex-City Treasurer Tuit, of Detroit,
Mich., who has been arrested for stealing $15,000 from the treasury, was known in that city as "Honest Tom." His honesty was only superficial, however, but as long as the world exists there will be such cases. Many a man gets a reputation for honesty that is not deserved, and really honest men are sometimes looked upon with suspicion.

Chinamen in New Haven, Conn., have boycotted a Sunday school, whose superintendent told the police of their literary game. The proportion of hypocrites among the Chinese attendants at Sunday schools is as great as among other professed Christians—probably greater.

It is said the Brazilian army is anxious to proclaim Floriano Peixoto dictator
for ten years, despite the election of Moraes to the presidency. If this be the result, public opinion in this country in regard to da Gama and Mello will change considerably.

There never was such an opportunity for a bright, clean and able man to go to the United States senate as is now presented in Minnesota. Such a man may make his appearance before next winter,
and then look out for a rattling of the dry bones.

According to dispatches today, ex-
Governor Lil is about to start on a lecture
tour of this country and Miss Pollard intends to write a book. But having withstood the financial panic, perhaps the country can also stand this double calamity.

The recent election at Virginia has resulted in a literary boom. The candidates on the victorious and defeated
tickets are each trying to convince the public that there was illegal voting "on the other side." It was ever thus.

Of the sort of women fashionable in novels at present an astute person says:
"They are wondrous complex creatures,
changed in ecstatic or perplexed contemplation of their own complexity."

The storm has been very general

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

Watch Nelson's Smokes. Crookston Times. Governor Nelson is said to be making a quiet attempt to secure the United States senatorship.
The governor has kept the same appointees that Mr. Merriam made, and he couldn't secure the plum. It will be interesting to watch how Governor Knute
will arrange it.

Duluth in the Tropics. Mankato Free Press. Navigation for this season opened at Duluth Saturday.
If this sort of record breaker should be followed up for two or three seasons, Duluth would begin to imagine it had been dropped down into a tropical region.

The People Should Say. Appleton Press: It really seems to us that the people ought to have something
to say about the next senator should be.
They should, at least, express themselves at primaries and conventions so strongly that even members of the legislature would not dare to disobey their behests.

When Col. Langston reaches New York
Ward McAllister will have to look to his laurels. The colonel is something of a social dictator himself.

The annual blizzard being over, regular spring weather will probably be the rule.

A Public Service Done. Red Wing Republican. There would be fewer such cases to deplore, if there was equal justice for both parties. Un-happily, most women lack the nerve to seek retributive justice. They suffer in shame, keep silence and die. The man loses nothing; he is still honored in his party; still admired by the dames of society; still advertised in honor of God
in the church; the truth is only whispered
about him; the rakishly inclined aim to imitate him, and the others think the
dear man better than his reputation.

Miss Pollard in bringing this suit and either the other party, hypocrite, has done
a greater public service than the eloquent and able defender has anywhere to his credit.

Too Much Politics. Fairmont Sentinel. There is a general
kick against the proposed early state convention and a legitimate complaint.
Five months politics is altogether too much,
even in good times.

Levellings' Foresight. St. Louis Republic. We shudder to think what might have happened if Governor Levelling had used Governor Wain's tactics to get the Legislature out of office after that sturdy Populist had refused to vacate at the gubernatorial order. Governor Levelling evidently knew his man.

A Pertinent Question. Breckenridge Telegram. There are petitions after petitions presented to both houses of congress, praying that
the preamble of the constitution of the United States be so changed as to recognize the Deity. We would like to ask, in this connection, if the Lord has been consulted in the matter.

Will Have to Fight. Merriam Park Reporter. Senator Washburn has done nothing during his service in the senate to cause any occasion for regret on the part of those who elected him and there is a strong sentiment in favor of his re-election. But that he will be returned without opposition of any magnitude is not apparent,
and there is no question but what he will have to confront as strong an opposition
as he did when he made the memorable fight with D. N. Sabin.

Leave It to the Legislature. Waconia News. Until the people are given the right to vote directly for senators, leave the choice entirely to the legislature, where it of right belongs. That body ought to be as competent to carry out the will of the people as the state convention.

Easter Bonnets. "I've a dream of an Easter hat," she said, While her husband sat pale and still;
"Oh, don't," he said, and turned his head,
"I've a nightmare of a bill."
—Chicago Record.
The Easter bonnet joke is old
and worn quite to a shred;
But never was so aptly said,
It's always near the head.
—Chicago Inter-Ocean.
"I shall not have an Easter bonnet,
Although my heart is set upon it;
Nor even a new Easter hat,
There isn't room in my flat."
—Detroit Free Press.
"I must," she said, "have an Easter bonnet;
I tell me no man can resist me;
He hasn't blown some rings of smoke,
And said: 'Hoot, hoot! Well, I am hooked.'"
—Chicago City Journal.
In Lent her mind's on serious things—
A woe's end upon it.
For what to her more serious is
Than that new Easter bonnet?
—Washington Star.

No Walker. Merriam Park Reporter. Senatorial politics are not so harmonious as to pe-
mit any one candidate to have a clear field. This era has not yet dawned, and the first gray streaks of the dawn are not distinguishable through the political haze. The present governor, his predecessor, the senator and some others
will not be passive witnesses of this great fight, either. Man's ambition does not end with a governorship, if higher offices are a possibility.

PAINT cracks.—It

often costs more to prepare a house for repainting that has been painted in the first place with cheap ready-mixed paints, than it would
to have painted it twice with strictly pure white lead, ground in pure linseed oil.

Strictly Pure White Lead

forms a permanent base for painting and never has to be burned or scraped off on account of scaling or cracking. It is always smooth and clean. To be sure of getting strictly pure white lead, purchase

"Southern," "Red Seal,"
"Collier," "Shipman."

HIGGINS WAS HANGED.

"Buff" Higgins was Hanged in the Cook County Jail at Chicago at Noon Today.

He Showed a Wonderful Nerve and Protested He Was a Victim of Police Persecution.

The Crime for Which He Suffered Death Was the Murder of an Old Man.

COOK COUNTY JAIL, Chicago, March 23.—The last newspaper man to converse with "Buff" Higgins, with whom Assassin Prendergast was to have been hanged today, was a representative of the Associated Press, whom he had consented to see just previous to being turned over to the final ministrations of the priests. Higgins said: "I feel pretty well. I had not been persecuted year after year by the police. I would not be here. They made their attacks on me every time they had an opportunity, and I can prove by West side people that they threatened frequently to hang me before they got through with me. They are doing it now and their perjured testimony has led to my conviction and to my death. In the same way I was sent to the penitentiary by them."

"I contend that I am a victim of police persecution, and these police are here today to plot over me, and that is why I want to show a good nerve to the end. It may convince people a little that there is something in this police persecution after all."

During this time Higgins' face was slightly flushed with the intense excitement of the occasion, but he showed a wonderful nerve and a frankness that almost created a doubt as to the justice of his sentence.

At 2 o'clock precisely, the mournful procession reached the north corridor in full view of the spectators. The sheriff and jailer Morris marched directly upon the gallows and were immediately followed by the doomed man and the priests, Higgins being brought to a stop directly beneath the noose. With a few deft movements, the sheriff and jailer about the prisoner's feet, his arms already having been secured behind his back, and the rope was quickly placed around his neck and the death cap adjusted.

Higgins died game. On the scaffold he kissed a crucifix, and, smiling, said "good-bye" to the priests. His death was apparently painless. As the clatter of the falling trap rang through the cell corridors, the prisoners raised a yell of "bang Prendergast," "hang Prendergast."

The little assassin of Sheriff Harrison crawled further into the corner of his cell where he sat trembling with rage and fear.

Prendergast would have nothing to say about the hanging. He seemed overcome with terror by the sounds accompanying the execution which he so narrowly escaped.

STORY OF HIS CRIME.

Higgins Shot an Old Man While Robbing His House.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Higgins' crime was one of the most brutal ever committed in Chicago. With two other hard characters, Higgins planned to rob an old citizen named Peter McCooey. When the old man awoke and started up to protect his house, the leader of the gang shot him before he could leave his bed. The murdered man was an employee of the city.

A few days before the murder, Mrs. McCooey drew her savings, amounting to $400, from a West Side bank. It is supposed that Higgins heard of this and surmised that the money was still in the house. At 2 a. m., Higgins, revolver in hand, entered the house, his accomplices, "Red" McGarry and Harry Flanberg, alias Irky, alias "Sheeny Joe," remaining in the yard to keep watch.

The family had retired at midnight, and it was two hours later when McCooey was awakened by a noise in his bedroom. He lifted himself on his elbow and saw a man running in a bureau drawer. Almost at the same instant, the thief turned and saw that he was discovered. Without a word, he fired at McCooey, who fell back in bed and died almost before his wife, who was lying by his side, was aroused.

Higgins and his pals fled without obtaining any money, but succeeded in evading the police only a few hours.

Women's Temperance Ticket.
AHLENE, Kan., March 23.—At a mass meeting the women of Enterprise, a town of 1000 people in this county, put up a complete temperance ticket composed of women. Mrs. M. Kohler, wife of ex-State Senator Kohler, was nominated for mayor; Mrs. Kate Haines for police judge and a full quota of council members were named. All are married women and they propose to purify the city's politics.

PROBING A MYSTERY.

The Mutilated Corpse of Susie Martin Buried in New York.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The mutilated and dismembered corpse found in the cellar of a tenement in "Hell's Kitchen" Monday night, has been buried as that of Susie Martin, though the coroner's physician would not certify to its identity.

Detectives who have been watching the dump at West Fourth-street, in the hope that something would turn up there tending to throw light upon the mystery of the child's death, report two finds. One was that of a little wrap or jacket, that it was thought might have belonged to the missing girl. It was of dark material with horizontal stripes. As far as could be discovered, it was new, however. Her father, who called it, was of fur, or was fur trimmed. The jacket was in a load of ashes brought from Stevenson's brewery, which is near where the corpse was found.

The other find was a dark knife, or stiletto, brought in a city cart from the same quarter. It was a disk with an 8-inch blade, and such as might have made the wounds in the side of the child. It has a curved German cross and handle tip and a mahogany or rosewood handle.

A MURDERER RECAPTURED.

Was to Have Been Hanged Today But a Stay Granted.

OMAHA, March 23.—Charles Carleton, the murderer of August Gohman, who was sentenced to hang today, but who escaped from the jail at Fremont last Monday night, was captured today at the home of a Sarpy county farmer. He was found under a bed by the officers and surrendered without a struggle, though he had a rifle and fifty rounds of ammunition by his side. He will reach Fremont this evening, but will not be hanged, as the supreme court has granted a stay until the trial or execution will have to be fixed again.

The G. A. R. Encampment.

PITTSBURGH, March 23.—The citizens executive committee of the twenty-eighth national encampment G. A. R., which meets here next September, has issued a circular informing G. A. R. members that hotel rates, with a three days limit can be secured from $1.50 to $5.00 per day, lodging from 50 cents to $1 per night and railroad rates from one fare for the round trip to one cent a mile. To avoid delay and annoyance, hand satchels should be used for baggage. Free quarters will be furnished in school houses and other buildings upon application.

Poisoned by Corned Beef.

CLEVELAND, March 23.—Three severe cases of poisoning, following the eating of canned corned beef, occurred at the boarding house of Richard Milburn, at 215 St. Clair street, last night. Milburn and his wife were freely of corned beef for supper. During the night the three men were taken ill. A physician worked over them four hours before relief came. Milburn is in a precarious condition and it is thought will not recover. The others are out of danger.

A Long Tramp.

LAMAR, Col., March 23.—Charles Randall, a young man having credentials from an athletic club in New York, arrived here last night. He is walking from New York to San Francisco upon a wager between two athletic clubs and is covering the distance in ninety-seven days, walking ten hours each day for six days a week. He has been fifty-six miles on the road and has traveled 2100 miles. He has forty-one days left to cover 1400 miles.

RIOTS AT BUDA PESTH.

Demonstrations Against Citizens Who Did Not Display Emblems of Mourning in Honor of Kossuth.

Led by Excited Students, a Crowd Had a Fight With Police at the Parliament House.

Resolutions Passed by the House Expressing the Nation's Gratitude for Services Rendered by Kossuth.

BUDA PESTH, March 23.—There is considerable excitement today among the students and others who took part in the riotous demonstrations last night against those citizens who had not displayed emblems of mourning in honor of Louis Kossuth. During the invasion of the theaters by the students, who drove the actors and audience from the building, and as a result of the conflicts which took place between the students and the police later, when the former dispersed the audiences in the concert halls, over twenty people were more or less seriously injured.

The police have made several arrests, but further trouble is anticipated tonight. As a matter of precaution there is a great and increasing display of mourning emblems today, as the citizens who do not make such an exhibition of respect to the memory of Kossuth are almost certain to have their windows smashed by the students this evening.

The students have announced their determination to compel people of all classes to show respect to the memory of the patriot and opposition to the will of the students, backed up as they are by crowds of sympathizers among the masses, is liable to cause serious disorders. The police, in order to avert further rioting, if possible, are advising people not to run the risk of incurring the animosity of the students and people who are now stirred up to a state of great excitement by the death of Kossuth.

In addition detachments of infantry and cavalry were kept under arms at the barracks and the students were notified that the authorities had determined to preserve the peace at any cost. It was against the criminal element that the police mainly directed their efforts, and a number of the desperate of those who were inclined toward violence were promptly arrested and will be detained in custody until the funeral exercises have been completed.

In spite of the fact that all the police force of Buda Pesth neighborhood is on duty here today, and though reinforcements of militia have been ordered from neighboring cities, the authorities find the greatest difficulty in preserving order. The officers in charge of the police were instructed to do everything possible to prevent a violent outbreak, as it feared that any conflict will result in bloodshed.

An enormous and excited crowd gathered in front of the parliament house, which was strongly guarded by police. The police also had the greatest difficulty in keeping a passageway through the crowds for the arrival of the deputies, but when it was noticed that all these representatives were mourning, the people became better humored and heartily cheered the popular deputies who were recognized on their way to the entrances. Inside the parliament house there was a large attendance of deputies and the public galleries were filled with people either dressed in mourning or wearing mourning badges.

When the president arose to address the house, the most profound silence was observed throughout the chamber. All the deputies arose from their seats and stood with bowed heads while the president announced the death of Louis Kossuth. The president was most deeply affected while making his address to the assembly and almost broke down when he spoke of the patriot's death in a foreign land. He concluded by asking for the unanimous adoption of the proposals made by Dr. Alexander Wekerle, president of the council of ministers who, at the conference of the Liberal members of the Hungarian diet last evening, suggested that the house express the nation's gratitude for the services rendered by Kossuth, and that it also send a telegram expressing sympathy with the family of the dead general.

Dr. Wekerle also suggested that a deputation of members of the lower house be appointed to go to Turin in order to place a wreath upon Kossuth's bier, and that the house adjourn until after the funeral.

M. Jush, leader of the Hungarian Independents, moved that the expenses of Kossuth's funeral be borne by the state, that his services be recorded in an act of parliament and that the municipal authorities be instructed to close all the theaters until after the funeral. This was rejected by the house, which adopted the proposals made by the president.

A Tennessee Sensation.
ST. LOUIS, March 23.—A special to the St. Louis Dispatch from Clarksville, Tenn., says: A sensation was created here this morning by the arrest of James Swift, one of a leading family of this section, for beating Cord Cooper, a wealthy planter, probably fatally, in an effort to rob him. The victim's skull was crushed. Charles Woolabam is also under arrest as an accomplice. The highwayman secured no money.

HE WANTED TO DESTROY.

Perpetrator of Dynamite Outrages in Lancaster, Pa., Discovered.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 23.—Four recent attempts to burn the large hardware establishment of George Steinman & Co., of this city, led to an investigation which has resulted in the detection of the author of the three late dynamite outrages here. The culprit is Charles Rawn, a young man belonging to one of the leading families of this city, whose sole incentive seems to have been an insane desire to destroy.

When the unexploded bomb was found in the building next door to the police station, a clerk in Steinman's, in which Rawn was also employed, reported that a stick of dynamite had been abstracted from behind the counter, but it was not believed that the bomb fiend was any of their employes.

Yesterday when Rawn was confronted with the evidence collected by Steinman relative to the attempts to burn the store, he made a full confession, stating that he had also committed the dynamite outrages.

The first bomb did not explode, the second one badly injured the Cherry street bridge over the Pennsylvania railroad and the third was exploded on the porch of Dr. Baker's residence, doing considerable damage and going off just as one person had passed within a foot of it and two others were within several feet approaching it. The night Rawn exploded the last bomb he had first been at the opera house and carried the bomb with him. It is said today that his friends sent him away last night, which is probably true, as no trace of him can be found today. His friends claim that his mind has been affected, and that reading of the outrages in Paris, he acquired an insane desire to emulate them.

ELEVEN WERE A. P. A. MEN.

Question of Religious Differences Raised in a Case in Denver.

DENVER, March 23.—For the first time in the history of the courts of Colorado, the question of religious differences has been raised, in the case of Tim Drew and James Burns, charged with robbery. The police, in order to avert further rioting, if possible, are advising people not to run the risk of incurring the animosity of the students and people who are now stirred up to a state of great excitement by the death of Kossuth.

The attorney at once asked for a new venire and that the coroner's office have charge of the jury on the grounds that Sheriff Burchinell was prejudiced against the defendants because they are Catholics.

One of the jurors, when leaving the court room, shouted: "Hurrah for the A. P. A."

DIRECTED BY A SPIRIT.

How a Deserted Wife Found Her Husband in Missouri.

KANSAS CITY, March 23.—Mrs. George McOmber of Chicago, has been guided by her spirit mother to Independence, Mo., where she located her runaway husband, just as the spirit told her she would, so she says.

Her husband left her a year ago, she further affirms, and in company with Mrs. R. D. Brown fled to parts unknown. Her mother appeared to her and told her that she would find the pair in Independence. She found them. McOmber is a barber.

CASHIER FATALLY SHOT.

Was Killed by a Man Whose Check He Did Not Cash.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23.—Fred Borenman, who claims to have arrived from Denver last week, entered the San Francisco Savings union's office and presented a check to Assistant Cashier A. Herrick.

The latter doubted the check's genuineness and retained it, when Borenman drew a pistol and fired several shots, killing Herrick. He tried to escape but was soon captured.

Another Old Villain.

REDFIELD, S. D., March 23.—Sheriff Moore left today for Pierre to secure requisition papers for the arrest of Nicholas McCormack, aged 68, who is charged with the abduction of Nora Howard, the 14-year-old daughter of J. H. Howard. The girl left home for school, but took a train, and was joined at the first station south by McCormack and both went to Nebraska.

To Prison for Life.

KENOSHA, Wis., March 23.—George Clowes pleaded guilty today to the murder of John Callahan, an aged farmer, and was sentenced to prison for life. Clowes made a written confession. He entered Callahan's house and demanded money and being refused, shot Callahan down by the side of his wife.

More Race Clashing.

ST. LOUIS, March 23.—Frank Shaw, of the Twin Cities, who is now in St. Louis, states that the St. Louis-Atlanta annual clash of racing will not be the only one this year, for the Twin City jockey club proposes to run on the same dates as the big Washington Park club of Chicago.

Doings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—In the house today, the Democrats could not get a quorum to vote on the O'Neil-Joy contested election case, and it was abandoned. Cobb's title to the seat from the Fifth Alabama district was confirmed. The house then went into committee on the military academy appropriation bill, amounting to $100,438.

Brazilian War Continues.

BUENOS AYRES, March 23.—Advices received here from Desterro say that Admiral de Mello has been proclaimed head of the provisional government and that he has announced his intention of continuing the struggle against President Peixoto.

BALDWIN AND HAUGEN.

Denial of Story That They Would Attempt to Defeat the River and Harbor Bill.

There Are Not Ten Men in Congress of Sufficient Influence to Defeat That Measure.

Both Baldwin and Haugen Much Chagrined Over Their Failure to Get a Larger Appropriation.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—[Special to The Herald]—Numerous statements have been sent out to Northwestern newspapers that Representatives Haugen and Baldwin would attempt to defeat the river and harbor bill in the house, because of the fact that they did not get the appropriations asked for for the improvement of the harbors at Duluth and Superior. It will be recalled that they asked for about $75,000, the amount recommended by the chief engineer of the war department and that the committee reported only $75,000 for both places.

Naturally both Baldwin and Haugen were very much chagrined over their failure to get a sufficient amount of money to make a successful beginning of the proposed improvements of these harbors. A statement has frequently been made that Baldwin would work on the Western members of the house and Mr. Haugen on the Eastern and Southern, in order to form a combination to defeat the river and harbor bill. It is only necessary to think a moment, to discover how absurd such a statement as this can be.

There are not ten men in congress of influence enough to defeat the river and harbor bill or any clause in it. The measure as reported by the committee will pass the house with but few, if any, changes, and the changes made in any respect be of minor importance. Doubtless the people of Duluth and Superior will be very much dissatisfied at the action of the river and harbor committee granting no more than $75,000 for this important work, but it will be impossible at this session of congress to add to this amount.

It will be entirely impossible for either Haugen, Baldwin or, as before stated, any ten men in congress, to defeat the river and harbor bill when the final vote is taken on this measure.

The "Palmetto" Case. WASHINGTON, March 23.—Governor Tillman's action against Commissioner of Patents Seymour, to cancel the registry of the trade mark "Palmetto" on South Carolina's dispensary liquor, will give a hearing in the United States supreme court on April 9, unless an agreement is made by the counsel to fix April 2 as the date.

A Sugar Amendment. WASHINGTON, March 23.—Senator Hansbrough, of North Dakota, is preparing an amendment which he will offer to the tariff bill, restoring the present bounty on sugar. He thinks it will receive the support of all Republicans, the Populists and the two Louisiana senators, which would carry it in the senate by a majority of one vote.

Opposes Huge Guns. WASHINGTON, March 23.—Chairman Cummings, of the house committee on naval affairs, is not a believer in huge guns for naval purposes, which were recently tested at Indian Head. "In my judgment," said he, "a 10-inch gun is the largest we should make, as it combines the greatest efficiency with the least disadvantages."

The Silk Weavers' Strike. NEW YORK, March 23.—The silk weavers are confident that the manufacturers will concede all their demands, and their leaders encourage them in this belief. A manufacturer said yesterday that upwards of 7000 silk workers are out in Paterson and probably 2000 in this city.

STRICKEN DEAD.

TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.

A recent New York dispatch reads: "James C. H. is a fine looking and apparently healthy man, was observed to stagger while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the sidewalk. When picked up he was dead. A physician examined the body and pronounced leucorrhoea the cause of death. A peculiar and feature of the case is that Mr. H. was on his way to Maine, to settle in the home of his brother. He had passed the previous ten years in the western mining country, and had amassed a fortune. IF YOU have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonials you should lose no time in seeking relief."

From John L. Roberts, Stratford, Pa.: "I have suffered with palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting and smothering spells, pain in shoulders, side and arms for over forty years. For twelve years have been treated without avail by prominent physicians in my neighborhood and in New York. Growing constantly worse, smothering spells followed one another, so my life was often in danger and I needed constant care. As my son had been cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, he sent me three bottles. The first dose gave me instant relief. Before using the last bottle I was completely cured. Although seventy-five years old I feel like a young man. I claim my cure to be almost a miracle."

Here is a letter from Mrs. John Kolges, of Cleveland, O.: "I had been troubled with my heart and stomach for years, but for six months had been confined to my bed. I had four of the best doctors in the city, but none of them could benefit the weakness of my heart. I also had dropsy and rheumatism. I never took medicine that relieved me at once as Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure does. I am much stronger. My appetite is good. I gain strength with every dose. I have gained more in six weeks from your treatment than in sixteen months from all the doctors."

"Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists. It is safe, effective, agreeable, and does cure." Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

CRITICISMS FROM LONDON.

American Politics Form the Subject of a Times' Editorial.

LONDON, March 23.—The Times today prints a leading editorial on American politics. The particular cause for this review is a special from the Times correspondent at Philadelphia, in which the latter says:

"The wave of enthusiasm which elected President Cleveland has ebbed so fast, owing to a universal revulsion of sentiment against the incompetence and mismanagement of the Democratic leaders, that were elections occur now the Republicans would gain a signal victory. President Cleveland is less blameable than the victim of circumstances beyond his control."

In the course of the editorial referred to the Times says: "If the Americans have reason to apprehend a worse state of affairs from the continuance of the Democrats in power than they have experienced under the Republicans, the situation must be gloomy indeed. 'We think, however, that it is rather the intolerance and deplorable vacillation of the Democrats in dealing with the tariff and similar questions rather than the belief that the Republicans would do better than before. Americans know how to accept a dead loss to their debts to start afresh. What they cannot tolerate is the uncertainty that obstructs the revival of trade.'"

A PENNSYLVANIA TRAGEDY.

John Sanders Goes Gunning and Kills Three People in Short Order.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 23.—A bloody tragedy occurred at Midvale last evening. John Sanders, a Polish boarding house keeper, had a quarrel with Mike Boshop and fired at the latter with a rifle. The shot missed Boshop but killed a 2-year-old boy in his mother's arms in an adjoining room. The second shot entered Boshop's body near the heart.

Sanders then accused his wife of being too intimate with the boarders and shot her twice in the leg and arm. The latter wound will probably prove fatal, and it is believed Boshop can live but a few hours.

In less than an hour a mob of 500 gathered and attempted to tear down the house. Sanders fired upon them until his ammunition was exhausted and was then arrested. An effort was made to lynch him, but the sheriff prevailed upon the mob to let the law take its course.

The Shell Flew Back.

HOPE, Kans., March 23.—Jacob Fridley, a farmer living twenty miles northeast of this city, put a loaded shell into his breech loading shotgun Tuesday and then put crushed glass into the barrel, intending to clear the barrel by firing the shot. The breech spring was weak, and when the gun was fired the shell flew back striking him in the right temple just above the eye, imbedding itself full length. He may recover.

Tornado in Kentucky.

OWENSBORO, Ky., March 23.—A tornado struck McDonald neighborhood, smashed rail fences, a large stock barn, a tobacco barn and a stable on McDonald's place. Valuable stock was killed, implements destroyed and his tobacco crop ruined. The cloud jumped the Ohio river and did much damage on the Indiana shore.

THE WORKS BLEW UP.

Terrible Explosion at the Dynamite Works of the Acme Powder Company in Allegheny Valley.

Five Persons, Two Men and Three Women, Were Killed and One Was Badly Injured.

Dwelling Near the Works Blown to Pieces and Mrs. Arthur Found Among the Debris.

PITTSBURGH, March 23.—The dynamite works of the Acme Powder company, at Black's Run, a mile and a half above Hulton, on the Allegheny Valley railroad, were destroyed by an explosion at 7 o'clock. Five persons were killed and one badly injured. The works were blown to pieces and buildings in the vicinity of the works were wrecked, windows broken, and the people within a mile of the works terrorized. Of those killed, two were men and three women. The names of the dead are: Mollie Remaley, Sadie Remaley, Nellie Remaley, William L. Arthur and Samuel Remaley. Mrs. William Arthur was badly injured.

The four killed were at work in the packing house. Mrs. Arthur, who was injured, was in a dwelling house near the works. The house was literally blown to pieces, and Mrs. Arthur was found among the debris.

The bodies of Mollie Remaley and William Arthur have not been found. The bodies of Sadie Remaley and Samuel Remaley were terribly mangled and were gathered up in a box. So far as now known, the four persons killed were all who were in the works. All the victims board in the house where Mrs. Arthur was injured.

The works are owned by E. J. McAbee & Co., of 808 Duquesne street, this city. Terror reigned in the vicinity of the works. At Logans Ferry, a mile away, a brick blot was badly damaged, and at Hulton, Oakmont and Verona, houses were shaken. Nothing remains of the works except one small building.

It was reported that ten to fifteen persons had been killed, but as far as known all the others have been accounted for. The plant consisted of four brick buildings. These, with the Remaley boarding house, were nearly completely demolished, nothing being left on the hillside but a pile of rubble. The works took fire and for hours afterwards it burned fiercely. The cause of the explosion is not known.

THEY WANT MORE LAND.

The commission appointed to treat with the tribe for the allotment of the lands in severity have decided on eighty acres for each person, and the tribe wants an allotment of 160 acres each.

THOUGHT HER A SAINT.

A Mexican Senorita Who Attracted a Large Band of Followers.

MEXICO, March 24.—Senorita Terza Urrea, the saint of Cabora, will shortly visit the metropolis. Senorita Urrea made her advent in the wild of Sonora four years ago as a superhuman being, and succeeded in organizing an army of followers, principally Indians who believed her to be a saint. Miraculous cures were attributed to her, and the pseudo attraction was a reputation that the authorities experienced great difficulty in disbanding her followers.

Her advent among the superstitious classes in the Mexico is being watched with concern by the authorities, who will take prompt steps if she again attempts her practices.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS.

Several Changes Being Made in the Management of Work at the Police and Fire Stations.

Police Will Attend All Fires Hereafter and Stretch Ropes and do General Patrol Duty.

The Annual Meeting of the Presbyterian Church to Be Held on Tuesday Evening Next.

Several changes have been made lately in the distribution of work at the city hall. The jailers now drive the patrol wagon, which is called out at every fire. The police will stretch ropes to keep the crowds back and one or two officers will protect goods removed from burning buildings. The boys of the fire department assume the jailers' former duty of taking care of the heating apparatus and of filling the furnaces.

Economy seems to be the watchword in dealing with city hall matters by the new administration. It is reported that the engineering force will, for the present, be cut down to two or three men as there is very little village work to be done in that line at present.

Annual Church Meeting.
The annual meeting of the Presbyterian church will be held next Tuesday evening. Reports from auxiliary societies and all departments of church work will be received. One or two elders and several trustees will be elected which will probably bring about a change in the management of affairs. For some time the church has been without a pastor and its financial and spiritual state has reached a pretty low ebb, but it is hoped to rejuvenate the society at the coming meeting and make a fresh start in an upward direction.

Banks Are Closed.
Good Friday was not celebrated as a holiday in West Duluth to any extent and a good many people did not realize the nature of the day until they ran up against a bank door and found it securely locked, with the usual discomforting sign outside of the curtain. Business houses in general were open all day.

Keeping a Vigilant Watch.
Telephone and fire alarm wires are still in a state of disorder and the fire department has established a system of watches in the tower of the city hall as a safe guard. Some member of the force is kept on duty every night going on duty at 10 o'clock and relief being sent every two hours.

ERLAND IS WANTED.

Uncle Sam Wants Some Information From a Former Letter Carrier.

The police are looking for Peter Erland, but so far have been unable to find him. The United States government wants him. He was formerly a mail carrier in the Duluth postoffice, but some time ago was dismissed because of some irregularities, not criminal, but such as the government will not tolerate. It has been discovered since that a registered letter, containing $50, and which was supposed to have been delivered by Erland, never reached its destination. The book is receipted with the man's name, but he claims not to have signed it himself. Who did is the question, and the government believes that if Erland were on hand the information he can give might be of some value. Inspector Wood, who investigated the case, therefore requested the police to find him.

Erland, however, seems to have been swallowed up and to be no longer of the earth. His wife has gone to the old country and no one knows where he is. He had been drinking pretty heavily for some time and this falling was one of the causes of his disappearance.

A very interesting program has been prepared by the junior class for their exhibition at Central High school on Monday evening, March 26. Professor Kiehlberger, the violinist, will assist them. Tickets, adults 25 cents, pupils 10 cents, on sale at Duluth Paper company.

Iowa's New Liquor Law.
The Iowa state senate yesterday passed
the house liquor bill, which has so long been under consideration, and it will undoubtedly be signed by Governor Jackson. This will put an end to the policy of state-wide prohibition in Iowa. This policy has been fully tested during a period of several years and has proven a flat failure. It has been demonstrated that prohibition cannot be enforced in any section where but a scant majority of the people approve it. There must be an overwhelmingly preponderant sentiment in favor of prohibition before it can be enforced with success in any community. This fact, which has been shown by numerous experiments, is now admitted by Iowa, after an experience of several years which has done serious damage to the state.
The new law is very strict in its provisions for regulating the traffic in liquor.
It is in form a "millet" measure; that is,
it proposes to levy a tax upon the sale
of intoxicating liquors, instead of calling the money return which comes to the community from such sale a license. This millet or tax is in the sum of $600 per annum, payable semi-annually, and is a lien upon the property
whereon the liquor is sold.
It is provided that assessors shall return to the county auditor a list of places where intoxicating liquor is sold, and that the same shall be entered upon the assessment books. If the assessor does not return such a list then three citizens may make report. If objection is made by any property owner to the assessment of the tax he shall have the right to go before the board of county
supervisors, and, upon showing that no liquors were illegally sold, may have the tax repealed, both sides having the right of appeal to the district court. The tax in question is to be collected by the county treasurer in the same manner as other taxes. One half of the tax is to go to the county general fund and one-half
to the municipality in which it is collected.
These are in the general provisions of the law, and as it is especially provided that the tax is not a license, and confers
no privileges or immunity from present
laws, it is simply an additional penalty
for the violation of the prohibitory laws.
This is its general effect so far as the state at large is concerned.
But in regard to cities which contain 5000 inhabitants or more an exception is made. In such cities, if the person appearing to pay the tax shall file a certified copy of a resolution passed by the city council consenting to the sale of intoxicating liquor and a written statement
of consent from all the resident freeholders within fifty feet of the premises
where the business is proposed to be carried on, such filing, together with payment of the tax, shall be a bar to prosecution under the prohibitory laws; that is, providing the seller also files a bond
in the sum of $3000 to comply with the law, conducts his business in a single room fronting on a street with no screens
blinds nor painted windows to obstruct
the view; allows no gambling, dancing
or other form of amusement, nor female attendant about the place; permits no
obscene pictures upon the walls, sells to
no minor nor habitual drunkard, nor earlier than 5 a. m. nor later than 10 p. m.
on any day, nor at all on Sundays, election days and on legal holidays.
These, in substance, are the restrictions the violation of any of which re-
vives against the violator the full rigor of the prohibitory laws. If this law be rigidly enforced, and there is no reason
why it cannot be enforced to the letter,
the liquor traffic will be better controlled than it has been under a law that was obnoxious to many who do not drink intoxicating liquors and which could not be enforced in the face of a strong opposing public sentiment, the result being the operation of "blind pigs," with all their attendant evils.

The Saturday Herald.
The Saturday edition of The Herald
will be of especial interest tomorrow.
The rush of spring advertising will compel an edition of fourteen or sixteen
pages, and this will result in many additional columns of reading matter.
Several features of particular interest
have been prepared, and will be made specially attractive by numerous illustrations. Prominent on the list is an article dealing with the newboys of Duluth. The "newbies" are a peculiar class in many respects, and the story told by one who has studied their life and their tricks will be read with keen interest.
In everything that goes to make up a first-class newspaper, The Herald easily leads all papers published at the head of Lake Superior. In the Saturday edition an especial degree of excellence is reached. Tomorrow's issue will be bright and newsy from start to finish, and no one can afford to miss it.

It Should Be Vetoed.
Washington advises say there is good authority for the statement that President Cleveland has not yet decided what
he shall do with the seigniorage bill.
He is said to incline toward a veto, and to take the position that the purposes of the act are now covered by the provisions of existing law, the Sherman act,
authorizing the coining of the bullion,
the secretary of the treasury being empowered to coin the seigniorage when it is earned.

The Times is a new daily paper issued at Washington. The first number was published last Sunday morning and made an excellent impression. It is bright, newsy and well printed. The Times has hundreds of stockholders,
few of whom are worth $5000 each, and all of whom earn their living by labor of hand and brain. There are over 4000 men and women in Washington who have a direct money interest in the Times, and its success is assured. As a newspaper it will be first-class, receiving
the full reports of the Associated Press.

If Miss Pollard really led the colonel astray in the manner outlined by his counsel, she should be assessed reasonable damages for thus seducing such a truly virtuous old man. At the same time he should be provided with a guardian. It is not safe to let him travel alone.

The Washburn organs are always talking about Mr. Washburn's hard work and success in the senate, but they always deal in generalities. Let us have some details of this great work. What has he ever done for Minnesota in the senate?

If you see any individuals on the street this evening with horns protruding from their heads do not be alarmed.
They are only part of the legions of the

At the last moment a judge was found who was willing to extend the period of

ence. It is such delays in the administration of justice that beget lynchings.

Kinney For Congress.
Anoka Union: If the Duluth Republicans will unite on Kinney for congress
he will stand a big chance of receiving the nomination.

Where Is He At?
La Prairie News: Where does A. Y.
Merrill belong anyway? Some papers credit him to Atkin, others to Grand Rapids and still others to Minneapolis.
Should he run for district judge, he will probably wonder himself where he is at before the campaign is over.

Now Hear This.
Anoka Union: Duluth papers are amusing themselves by printing state
tickets with every candidate a Duluthian.
That's all it will amount to, for there will be no Duluth man on the ticket.

Baldwin for Governor.
Wadena Tribune: Congressman
Baldwin's name is being mentioned as a possible candidate for governor next fall. The major's fearless conduct during his present incumbency has won over for him a host of friends in all political parties, and it would not be surprising to see him develop considerable strength the next few months for gov-ernatorial honors. If the feeling in this neck of the woods is any criterion, the major will have a strong following should he aspire to the office of the chief executive of the state.

The Tin Horn Politician.
Winnebago Press News: Congressman
Fletcher, of Minneapolis, says the days
of the tin horn politician are numbered.
A revolution in this respect has been inaugurated, and that henceforth solid,
practical men will represent the people.
It is to be hoped Congressman Fletcher
is right, for the country has had a surfeit
of that class of individuals who make politics a trade, and sit up nights hatching schemes for the organization of the rank and file to boost them into this or
that position which they have picked out
to fill for what cold cash there is in it.
A return back to first principles, namely,
let the office seek the man, means in every community an infusion of new blood, and a class of representatives that will legislate unselfishly, honestly and intelligently for the best interests of their constituents.

The Proper Way.
Princeton Union: Senator Washburn
says unless there is a substantial unani-mity for his re-election, especially in Minnesota, he will not be a candidate.
Red Wing Republican: The proper way to learn the extent of the demand
for his re-election is that which he adopted to judge whether the Republicans of the state were in favor of legislation to secure the opportunity and the results of free and honest elections. All who in writing reported to him in Washington, that such legislation should pass
should pass, be counted in favor of some proper bill. All the other people in the state he counted against the bill before
the senate, and it therefore appeared to him to be his duty to let the protection of the ballot take care of itself.

ENVELOPED IN DENSE FOG.

Navigation on the Bay and Rivers at New York Made Difficult.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The bay and rivers are enveloped in a dense fog today, which renders ferry traffic dangerous and hinders the approach of ocean steamers. There are several steamers today, among them the Celtic and Germanic from Liverpool and the City of Para from Colon. Some of them are probably at anchor off bar waiting for the fog to lift.

The Hamburg-American steamer
Rugia is fifteen days out from Naples.
The State of Georgia is twenty days out from Aberdeen. The Donna Maria sailed from Oporto on March 7 and has been out sixteen days. The Grecian from Glasgow is thirteen days out. The Kansas City, from Swansea, is fifteen days out.

The Bohemia is fourteen days out from Hamburg. The North German Lloyd
steamer Aller sailed from Southampton March 14, and was due yesterday. There is still no news of the British steamer
Apollo, which left this port Feb. 11 for Antwerp. It is now forty days since she sailed.

Senator Colquitt Worse.
WASHINGTON, March 23.—Senator Colquitt's condition is not so favorable today. The unfavorable change occurred early this morning and the patient's breathing was quite heavy. He is resting easier now, but is extremely weak.
The patient retains consciousness and listened with interest to a newspaper article read to him today.

Verdict of Acquittal.

The jury in the case of Patrick Cash,
formerly chief of police of Williams Bridge, who was tried for the killing of James Cleary during a fight at a special election in Williams Bridge about two years ago, came into court today with a verdict of acquittal. The jury was out all night. Cash's plea was self defense.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

February Term of Court Is Dragging Along Slowly and Will Continue All of Next Week.

April Term Will Open Within a Day or Two After Adjournment of the Present Court.

Bradley vs. Norris Breach of Warranty Case Was Submitted Today—Other Cases on Trial.

The February term of the district court continues to drag along and will probably continue through all of next week. At noon there were about a half dozen cases of this week's setting remaining unheard and there is quite a batch to be given a setting for next week. The April term of court will open on April 3, one week from Tuesday next, and the judges will barely have more than a day or two at most of vacation between the closing of the old term and the opening of the new.

The last day for filing notes of issue for the April term will be Tuesday next. Tomorrow the special calendar will be an unusually large one, so far as could be estimated at noon. The argument on the demurrer in the case of W. S. Woodbridge vs. the City of Duluth, an action to restrain the issue of water bonds, will probably be heard. It was to have been heard by Judge Moer on Tuesday of this week, but his time has been occupied by the regular work of the term.

The case of A. W. Bradley vs. Michael Norris et al. was submitted on briefs today after being on trial two days or more. It is an action for a breach of warranty growing out of the Hackus vs. Burke case. Giles Gilbert vs. George C. Howe was passed to the foot of the calendar.

Before Judge Moer several appeals cases of the Norton heirs, George L. Raymond, B. H. Wesden, Northwestern Loan and Investment company and others from the benefits assessed for street improvements in West Duluth have been on trial today and yesterday and were submitted on briefs. The improvements in question are on Fourth avenue west, Mountain avenue, Grand avenue and Collingwood avenue. Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff in Frank Genery vs. Elin Genery and Gaid Erickson vs. Olaf Erickson. In the case of Jean B. Fontanel vs. C. W. Shepherd, a petition has been filed asking for a temporary receiver to take charge of the building and property, rents and profits during the pending of the action. Judge Emerson has directed a hearing of the petition on March 24.

ROE WAS RELEASED.
No Evidence Sufficient to Retain Him Could be Found.

James Roe, the fellow arrested night before last by Detective Hayden on suspicion of being the fellow who burglarized the Lakeside postoffice, has been released. The parties upon whom the checks were passed felt quite sure that he was the man but were not willing to swear to it. In the face of that nothing could be done but to give him his discharge. Roe was put in the sweat box, but he could not be kept there for more or less, but stoutly maintained his innocence in the face of all accusations.

Addressed by the President.
George W. Uhler, President of the National Marine Engineers' Beneficial association, visited Duluth, Minn., on Tuesday evening and spoke at considerable length on the association and its aims and results. The address was most interesting to the members. C. F. H. chief engineer of the Mahoning, also spoke briefly and R. A. Webster, president of the Duluth lodge.

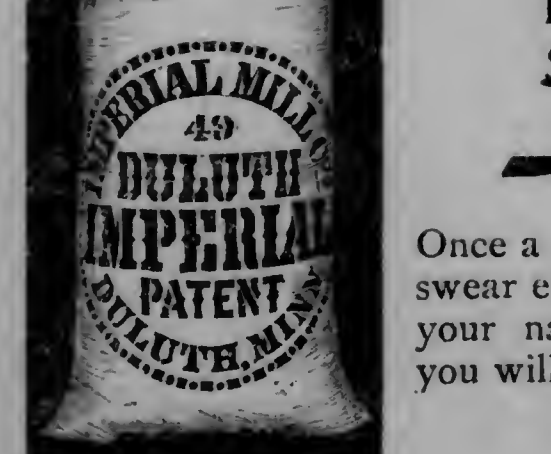

Be on hand Monday morning for reserve seats for the Archer concert, at Duluth Music Co. No extra charge.

MARK W. BAKER.

Flattering Tribute to Him from the Elmira Daily Advertiser.

As has been announced, Mark W. Baker, of Elmira, N. Y., will come to Duluth on July 1 to lead the singing in the First M. E. church. He will come on and sing in the Frederick Archer concert on March 29, Thursday next. The Elmira, N. Y., Daily Advertiser has this to say of him:

"Mark W. Baker has resigned his position as dean of the school of music of the Elmira college. Next June, at the close of the school year, he will leave Elmira to become a resident of Duluth, Minn., in which city he will be the director of music of the First M. E. church, singing solo tenor and conducting the choir, which consists of a quartet and chorus of fifty voices. The church will have a separate organist."

"Mr. Baker has been a leader in musical circles in this city for the past ten years; three years and a half of this time he was organist and director of the choir of Trinity church, and the remainder of the period organist and choir director at the First Presbyterian church. His connection with the Elmira college is well known. He was also conductor of the Beethoven club, which was composed of Elmira's leading students."

"The advanced quality of church music and the high grade of solo and chorus singing in Elmira are unreservedly attributed to Mr. Baker. His efforts have produced the remarkable improvement observed in the music in our principal churches, especially in those with which he has been connected, and those in which choirs are now conducted by his pupils."

"As a teacher Mr. Baker has conferred far-reaching benefits upon the community. As a singer his fine voice has been heard with pleasure on many occasions at musical, social, and amateur entertainments in Elmira and the near by cities and towns. In all respects his success has been pronounced. He is a man of brilliant talents who is now in the height of his powers, and in Mr. Baker and his wife accomplished, helpful members of the society. The Advertiser congratulates Duluth and bespeaks for Mr. Baker in his new and larger field of labor the success he is sure to accomplish."

AMUSEMENTS.

Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Lyceum will witness the first appearance of Marie Tempest, the pearl of light opera prima donnas and the Whitney Opera company in "The Fencing Master," a new and novel play presented here, although it is now near the end of its second successful year. The Whitney Opera company is also new to the public of this city, but it is well known that the organization has been received with every mark of approval by the press and public of the Southern and Eastern cities.

Marie Tempest, the prima donna of the company, occupies a position in the musical world peculiarly her own. She appeared in London and, without going through the usual laborious career, almost immediately became a favorite prima donna. Her first appearance in New York was the occasion of still more favorable comment. Miss Tempest comes here under the most favorable conditions, as she is surrounded by a thoroughly first class company of singers, an enlarged orchestra, and the opera house is under the management of one of the best managers in the world. The sale of seats opened yesterday at the Lyceum and there has been a great demand. It would be well for all who wish to get good seats to get around early.

Accidentally Killed.
John Burdette, a young man holding a claim in 60-21, near Grand Rapids, was killed last Monday morning. He was on his way to his house with a load of provisions. When near Long Lake he saw some game which he wanted to shoot, and attempted to draw his rifle, which was lying in the wagon with the muzzle toward him. The hammer was not in the best repair, caught on a piece of wire which held part of the load, the gun was discharged and a ball entered Burdette's body near the left groin, causing death in a few hours.

Bob Burdette Did Not Come.
An audience only fairly large gathered at the Lyceum last evening to hear Bob Burdette speak on "The Rise and Fall of a Musician," but the great humorist failed to produce himself and the people filed out unsatisfied. No one knows where Bob is. He was to arrive from Chicago, but although all trains arrive on time he failed to come, neither did he send any message.

Contracts for Surveys.
Commissioner Lamoreux has approved the contracts made by Surveyor General Compton with Howard A. Crompton, of Mantoville, for the survey township 60, range 24, in Itasca county, for $675, and with Guy A. Eaton, of Tower, for the survey of township 64, range 14, and township 66, range 15, both in St. Louis county, for $1,550.

THE WORKINGMEN'S CLUB.

Celebration Tonight of the First Anniversary of Its Founding.

At the Bethel this evening the first anniversary of the founding of the Workingmen's club will be celebrated in an enthusiastic manner. The value of such an institution in the city cannot be overestimated. Dr. Salter, the "G. O. M." of Duluth, realized that to counteract the effect of the saloons a place of entertainment must be provided where the idle men and those having a little leisure time could spend it profitably; but this was only possible by the assistance of the workmen themselves, and nobly did organized labor respond to the call, voluntarily tendering their services, after their day's work was done, in completing the apparatus necessary for a first-class Workingmen's club. Those of the unions which could not aid in the mechanical department donated sums of money, for which a marble tablet will testify to posterity the unions which took part in the formation of what promises to be one of the greatest workingmen's clubs in the country.

Among those who will deliver short addresses are Mayor Lewis, Dr. C. G. Salter and City Attorney Morris. The various unions of the city will supply the program. Messrs. Fisher and Finkert will give violin and guitar solos, the Normann Mandolator (Norwegian) quartet will render several selections, and songs and recitations will make up a very pleasant evening.

Miss Cady to Speak.
Miss Cady, state secretary of the Kansas Young Women's Christian association, has been engaged by the state committee of Minnesota to take care of the work in this state for two months. Her purpose is to visit the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening. At least two congregations will unite in this service. Miss Cady's subject is "A Gate Not Turned." An interesting meeting is promised.

Notice.
Paragraph 103, page 56, school laws edition 1891.—Any school that may be in session in a county at the time of holding a State Institute for that county, shall be closed for one (1) week upon the requirements of the superintendent of the county for the purpose of allowing the teachers to attend the institute, and the teachers shall be allowed to make up the time so lost (upon presenting to the clerk of the district a certificate of the county superintendent testifying said teacher's attendance at the institute).

Paragraph 102, page 56. Provided, further that the trustees or board of education in any school district shall have power to permit any teacher to attend a teacher's institute to be held in the county and to continue the salary of the teacher while attending such institute.

Now, therefore, in accordance with the provisions of the law above cited, boards of trustees of each school district within the district in the county are requested to close their schools during the session of the county teacher's institute, March 26 to March 30 inclusive, to permit teachers to attend the institute at Duluth. Boards are respectfully urged as a matter of right to give their teachers the time as if in school.

The Flatiron and the Billiard Table.

Manrice Daly is a convert to John Roberts' idea of ironing the bedclothes of a billiard table. Daly offers to buy Roberts' big flatiron, but the Englishman wouldn't part with it. He promised to send a duplicate iron to Maurice, but it hasn't arrived yet. Daly also advocates the use of the iron on the cushions, especially along the edge of the cushion where the chalk clings when the ball strikes. "This chalk clinging to the edge of the cushion," says Daly, "has an effect on the ball, and though it only slightly interferes with the true angle of rebound on the part of the ball, still it is worth while doing away with the interference, and I believe that can be accomplished by ironing the cushions. Ironing the bedclothes will do of course make the balls run freer and faster."

Van Deusen, who is now the owner and holder thereof, which assignment was by written instrument in due form dated May 24th, 1893, and duly recorded in the office of said register of deeds on March 18th, 1894, at 3 o'clock a.m., in Book 117 of mortgages, on page 207.

And whereas by the terms of said mortgage and of the notes thereby secured, one hundred twenty-two and 50/100 dollars interest became due and payable on June 1st, 1893, and one hundred twenty-two and 50/100 dollars interest thereon became due and payable on December 1st, 1893, all of which interest is yet due and owing upon said mortgage.

And whereas said mortgage and the principal note secured thereby are conditioned that upon default in the payment of interest as therein provided, such default remaining for the period of ten days, the whole debt secured by said mortgage may be declared immediately due and payable at the option of the holder thereof, pursuant to the conditions of said mortgage, and the debt secured by said mortgage is hereby declared and claimed to be due and is due, owing and unpaid, amounting at the date of this notice to the sum of sixteen hundred twenty-two and 50/100 dollars.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of said power of sale and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed and the premises therein described and covered and being in the county of St. Louis and state of Minnesota, to-wit: Lots number one hundred seventy-four (174) and one hundred seventy-five (175), in Duluth Proper, Third Division, according to the recorded plat thereof, with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to satisfy the amount which shall be due upon said mortgage together with twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, said mortgage stipulating for payment of one hundred dollars attorney's fees in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, which sale will be made by the sheriff of said St. Louis county, Minnesota, at the front door of the court house of said county, in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on Saturday, the 24th day of May, 1894, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from day of sale, as by law provided.

AT RAINY LAKE CITY.

Col. Geggie, the Townsite Manager, is Enthusiastic Over the Prospects of the New Town.

There is No Question That Gold Exists There in Large Quantities and Very Rich.

When Navigation Opens, There Will Be a Rush Unprecedented in the History of the Northwest.

Col. J. H. Geggie, the townsite manager of Rainy Lake City, arrived here yesterday on a flying trip before the spring break-up and left again for the new town this afternoon. The colonel said that the prospects of a large town being built at Rainy Lake City are very flattering. It is now a city of tents, as there was no material to build houses, but now the material is running right and day and the erection of numerous substantial buildings will begin at once. Col. Geggie brought with him the necessary papers for presentation to the county commissioners to secure the incorporation of Rainy Lake City as a village. A census of the new town was taken a few days ago and a careful count showed 214 actual residents who are there to stay and a floating population of nearly 300, many of the latter in the immediate vicinity of the townsite. When navigation opens, Col. Geggie expects such a rush as was never before in the Northwest. Naturally conservative, he has not reached this conclusion without sound reasons to back it up, and he is perfectly satisfied that the Rainy Lake region will be the Mecca of many thousands during the coming summer.

"It is in the air," he said this morning. "We could not stop it now if we tried. There is one thing that I desire to emphasize: There is no question about gold being there in large quantities and very rich. I brought in some fine specimens with me. Without exception, every old miner with whom I talked is enthusiastic over the discoveries and is confident that even richer finds will be made. With the snow on the ground it is not possible to do much prospecting for gold. What has been done was along the rocky shores of the lakes and rivers. When spring arrives and the ground dries up the woods will swarm with prospectors."

"I do not think there is any danger of a famine before navigation opens, because large stocks of provisions have been taken in recently, but there will not be any surplus left. People are now going in there very rapidly, and teams have traveled nearly 400 miles from North Dakota. Every Western state is represented and many Canadians are coming in. Rainy Lake City now has three hotels, stores of all kinds, several restaurants and the usual number of saloons found in mining towns. There is a good opening for a doctor and a drug store, there being neither at present. A laundry is also needed very much. St. Paul and Tower parties have stored several hundred tons of ice, but still ice will be a luxury there in the summer."

"A Buffalo firm, who have been conducting a fish business at Lake of the Woods for six years, have decided to change to Rainy Lake and other waters and will make Rainy Lake City their headquarters. The townsite is beautifully located, especially well located when the character of the country is considered. When navigation opens it will be possible to go from Tower to Rainy Lake City in twenty-four hours. You can leave at 3:15 p. m.; reach Tower at 6 p. m.; take supper on a steamer on Lake Vermilion, reaching the head of the lake in quick time, where Concord coaches will run to a half way house. After a night's rest the passengers will go in a coach to Crane Lake where a steamer will be in waiting to carry him direct to Rainy Lake City, which will be reached the same afternoon."

Under date of March 20, H. C. Yeager writes from Rainy Lake City to The Herald as follows: Rainy Lake is booming, from four to eight team loads coming in every day. Lumber is in great demand here now and the Rainy Lake Lumber company will start a night crew tonight and run night and day. Mr. Kirkwood, of the lumber company, has gone to Duluth to get more machinery, and in another week people will be able to get lumber as fast as they want it. The weather is fine here, I should think better than you are enjoying in Duluth.

ALMOST A HOLIDAY.

Very Little Doing Around Any of the Public Offices Today.

Very little was going on at the city hall this morning, this being Good Friday and business accordingly slack all over the city. A civil case occupied the attention of the municipal judge, but for the want of wrongdoers no police court grist was ground out.

The quiet at police headquarters was broken only by the timid tread of an applicant for a place on the new force. Chief Armstrong was "at home" to all callers and had plenty of time for them apparently.

This afternoon the city clerk closed his office and the clerks in the engineer's office and that of the board of public works took a half holiday. Business was done at the old stand by the health department all day, but Acting Inspector Robinson spent all his time down cellar testing meters. The mayor's clerk, City Attorney Morris and his assistant were at their post of duty, but took their time to it whenever a breath was taken.

All of the banks and the board of trade were closed, but the county government offices were open, although doing no business to speak of.

Large Party of Elks.

A large party of Elks arrived on the St. Paul & Duluth at 3 o'clock this afternoon in a special car. They came from Mankato, Stillwater, Minneapolis and St. Paul. A class will be initiated here tonight in the Parsons block and all of the local Elks look for a great time. A large class was initiated at Mankato last evening.

Did Not Purchase.

George Putney, of the Hotel Metropolitan, left for New York last evening. While here he looked over the Spaulding with a possible view to acquiring the property but came to the conclusion that it would cost too much money. He remarked that after he got it he would have to expend $10,000 to get it in such shape as he would wish to have it.

ICE ROTTEN AT THE SAULT.

Probability of an Early Opening of Navigation is Increasing.

The probability that steamers will be called to start from Chicago and Duluth for Buffalo simultaneously this spring is becoming stronger daily. Detroit, at the Lake Huron end of St. Mary's River, reports the channel all clear near that point. Above Detroit, several horses have broken through the ice and been lost.

Near Lime Island and Sault's Encampment the ice is so soft that it may now move out at any time. Lake Superior is free of ice above Whitefish Point, and in the vicinity of Point Iroquois it is very soft. The canal locks will be ready for service whenever the ice embargo is lifted.

Good Friday Services.

Good Friday was observed in a number of the churches today. At St. Paul's Episcopal church there was a celebration of the holy eucharist at 10:30 o'clock, followed at 12 o'clock by a devotional service continuing until 3 o'clock.

At all the Catholic churches the prescribed mass was celebrated, with the altars, priests and acolytes all attired in black.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE.

Whereas default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage which was duly executed and delivered by Joseph L. Laine and Emma Lafortune, his wife, and Augustin Gaudin and Mary Gaudin, his wife, mortgagors, to Colin A. Innes of Bradford County, Pennsylvania, mortgagee, bearing date the thirtieth (30th) day of June A. D. 1892, and with a power of sale in case of such default therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the register of deeds in and for the county of Duluth, State of Minnesota, on the eleventh (11th) day of July, A. D. 1892, at eight (8) o'clock a. m., in Book 183 of mortgages, on page 78; which said mortgage, and the principal note thereby secured, contain provisions that, if the interest thereon is not paid when due, or if default is made in any of the conditions or covenants therein contained on the part of said mortgagors to be performed, then the whole principal sum thereby secured shall be immediately due and payable without any notice at the option of said mortgagee.

And whereas the semi-annual installment of interest upon said note and mortgage, due January 1st, 1894, amounting to the sum of forty-eight (48) dollars, which said mortgage had executed to pay when due, in and by said note and mortgage, was not paid when due, and still is wholly unpaid, by reason whereof said mortgagee has elected to exercise the option to him given in such case by the terms of said note and mortgage, and has heretofore duly declared, and does hereby declare, the whole sum secured by said note and mortgage, and the interest thereon, to be due, and there is actually due, at the date of this notice, upon said mortgage debt, the sum of twelve hundred seventy-two and 25/100 ($1272.50) dollars, principal, interest and exchange, and seventy-five (75) dollars attorney's fees stipulated for in said mortgage in case of foreclosure thereof; and whereas no action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof:

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the said power of sale contained in said mortgage, which has become operative by reason of the default above mentioned, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and covered by said mortgage, viz: all that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the county of St. Louis, State of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: Lot four (4) of Myers Reorganization of block one hundred six (106), Duluth, Proper, Second Division, according to the recorded plat thereof; which said premises with the hereditaments and appurtenances, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay the amount of said debt, to be due upon said mortgage, and the taxes (if any) on said premises, and seventy-five (75) dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, by the sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the front door of the court house, in the city of Duluth, in said county and state, on the eighth (8th) day of May, A. D. 1894, at 10 o'clock a. m., of that day, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

THE GOVERNOR LOST.

The Opinion of the Colorado Supreme Court
in the Famous Denver Police Board Row.

Unanimously Agreed the District Court Must Settle Who Are Legal Members of the Board.

This Leaves the Matter Where It Stood When
the State Troops Were Called Out.

DENVER, March 24.—There was a large crowd of attorneys and prominent citizens in the supreme court today when the court filed in and took their places
for the purpose of rendering an opinion
in the famous police board controversy.
The question was presented to the court
by the governor and asks who are the legal members of the fire and police board. The unanimous opinion of the court is that the question must be determined by the district court.

This decision is against the governor,
for it does not answer his questions and leaves the matter where it stood when he called out the militia over a week ago.
The grounds upon which the opinion was rendered is that the case will be carefully
brought and the court has no jurisdiction.
Representatives of the committee of safety were there, too, to watch the outcome and report to the committee at the earliest moment, in order that in case the court should not decide the controversy in a definite and positive way, prompt steps might be taken to protect the city's interests, preserve the peace and prevent the recurrence of the shameful scenes of
a week ago.

His Head on Fire.
PERU, Ind., March 24.—Hiram Knob-lach, aged 15, living near Bremen, used coal oil last night to wash his head, and shortly after struck a match, igniting his hair. His aunt, Mrs. Greber, by desperate efforts smothered the flames. The boy was horribly and probably fatally
burned and the aunt was seriously burned about the hands and face.

A Hardened Criminal.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—William Fredericks, who shot Cashier Herrick yesterday is only 22 years old, but for years has been a hardened criminal.
Several years ago he was sent to the penitentiary for robbery and served four years. He is accused of two murders
besides that of Herrick, and is suspected of another.

Excitement Over Gold.
SALT LAKE, March 24.—Excitement
over new gold discoveries is running high at the little town of Lehi, Utah,
about thirty miles south of this city.
There is a pink slate and lays in veins. The belt has been traced for two miles, is thirty feet in thickness and assays about $20 in gold to the ton.

A Double Tragedy.
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 24.—At
Golden, a mining camp near this city,
Jim Cheves, insanely jealous of his distressed wife, quarrelled with A. Perry over the woman. Pistols were drawn and both fired simultaneously. Cheves was shot dead and Perry cannot live.

Mother and Child Killed.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—The 2-story and basement frame residence at 220 Haight street was destroyed by fire

from a back window into the yard below
with her 5-months-old baby in her arms.
Both were killed. The other inmates of the building had a narrow escape.

C. Campbell, a few weeks ago a

IRON ORE CONTRACTS.

The Biwabik Company Has Engaged Tonnage
at Eighty Cents.

CLEVELAND, March 24.—One of the Mesaba mining companies, the Biwabik, engaged some tonnage recently at 80
cents from the head of Lake Superior,
the contract as regards time being even
a little less favorable to the vessels than those made two weeks ago. Aside from this there is nothing new in the way of ore contracts.

Owners who have not taken any of the 80-cent ore still insist that many of the vessels that have taken it must, in view of the very unfavorable outlook in coal
freights, be operated at a loss, and at a very heavy loss if there is any improvement toward the close of the season.

ICE SOLD AT PORT ARTHUR.

Navigation Will Not Open There For Thirty Days or More.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., March 24.—
While navigation appears to be opening everywhere else, the prospects at Port Arthur are none too encouraging. The ice is still solid to Thunder Cape, forty-two inches thick inside the piers, ranging from thirty-six inches to twenty-four outside.

Old residents and experts on ice do not expect navigation to open for at least thirty days, perhaps forty.

Northwest and Nearly Approaches a Blizzard in Severity.

ST. PAUL, March 24.—Specials to the Dispatch from various parts of the Northwest tell of another severe storm that nearly approaches the blizzard in its proportions.

The storm rages fiercely all along the lakes and business is much interfered with. Washburn, Wis., reports a fall of one foot of snow and still falling.
Throughout the Dakotas the storm
rages and is extended all over Minnesota. In some sections there is little snow, but the high winds are general.
There is no snow in this vicinity but enough wind to satisfy any who like wintry blasts.

tributing reservoir today. She had appeared rational lately and had been given her liberty.

was exploded under the residence of

dent Cleveland in Regard to Minnesota Offices.

Week and McCafferty Thought to Be Winner.

Grand Rapids and O. H. Miller at Fond du Lac.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representative Baldwin
had a long talk with President Cleveland this morning. During the conference the president told Maj. Baldwin that he would appoint the United States district attorney for Minnesota next week. He did not mention the name of the man likely to be chosen. It is believed, however, that Judge McCafferty,
of St. Paul, will capture the prize.

The president also told Maj. Baldwin that he would appoint Judge Bruener register of the St. Cloud land office next week.

Maj. Baldwin will again take up the Duluth collectorship fight at the treasury department next week. Whether he will stick to Olund is not known.

of Minneapolis, will be appointed collector
of internal revenue next week.

the appointment of the following postmasters in his district: Grand Rapids,
Itasca county, Philip Castleberg, vice L.
F. Knox, removed; Harford, Todd county, James Hart, vice E. J. Leavitt, resigned; Fond du Lac, St. Louis county,
O. H. Miller, vice W. H. Hollenbeck, removed.

Courts.

special from Ashland says: The Ashland city water war has been declared off for a few days. Judge Parish has decided that for the time being consumers shall pay the water company the new rates and deposit in some bank enough to make up
the old rate, which will be turned over to the water company if the court decides in their favor.

Webber, in the William Lauer damage suit, in which the jury brought in a verdict of $5000 to the heirs. He was killed in the yards at Tracy.

The plaintiff's principal witness was

Madigan, bribed him to swear that he saw Lauer killed.

THE MISSION WEEK.

Two Able Unitarian Divines to Conduct Services All Next Week.

The coming week is to be marked by a series of meetings at the Unitarian church, conducted by two of the ablest
and most brilliant young men in the Unitarian pulpit, with a view to disseminating more widely the ideas which that church represents. The first of these gentlemen, Rev. S. M. Crothers, of St.
Paul, has been heard here before; but as he is about to leave St. Paul to accept a call to Cambridge, Mass., it will probably be the last opportunity to hear him
here for a long time to come. Mr.
Crothers has, in the last few years been sought for far and near, by the largest and wealthiest churches in the Unitarian denomination, but has heretofore steadfastly adhered to his determination not to leave
St. Paul, where he has been doing a remarkable work. This call to the church which is most intimately connected with the oldest and largest seat of learning
on our continent, which will bring him
into direct personal contact with a body of nearly three thousand students, was
one which he was unable to refuse.
This is one of Mr. Crothers' several missionary journeys, prior to his final departure.

PAYS A BIG GUARANTEE.

Manager Condon Plays Mansfield on His Entire Circuit.

Manager Condon left on the Omaha
for Chicago this afternoon, where he will join Richard Mansfield, the famous American actor, who appears here next week. Mr. Condon has engaged him for one week to play his entire circuit, including Duluth and West Superior.

Mr. Mansfield is the greatest actor on the American stage today, consequently Manager Condon has guaranteed him
$5000 for one week beginning March 25.
His repertoire for Duluth will be: Friday night, "Prince Karl"; Saturday night,
"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde"; Saturday
matinee, "Beau Brummel."

Frederic Archer Concert.

The Frederic Archer concert on Thursday next will be a great musical event and not alone because of the appearance of the great organist whose reputation is world wide. The Schubert trio, consisting of Mrs. Emil Schmeid, piano, Earrest Lachmund, cello, and Carl Riedelberger, violinist, which has won such a high place in the regard of Duluth musicians, will play. This trio has been pronounced by people competent to speak as one which can be excelled by very few, even in professional
companies.

Mark W. Baker, of Elmira, N. Y., will sing and Mrs. Agnes Hall, who has so completely captured all music lovers.

Magoffin for Collector.

St. Paul Globe: A Duluth special to the Globe notes the candidacy of Hon.
Beriah Magoffin for collector of that port.
Mr. Magoffin's long and honorable record in Minnesota gives him great strength,
and his Kentucky nativity stands him
well in hand with Secretary Carlisle.
Though the contest is considerably like Horace Greley's tariff, a local issue,
his selection would certainly meet with approval by the Democrats of the state at large. For many years a resident of St. Paul, he has the best wishes of many personal, as well as political friends in this city.

The Appropriation Bills.
The senate committee on appropriations is taking up the appropriation bills very promptly after their receipt, with the purpose of having them acted upon as soon as possible in the senate, to the end that adjournment of congress can be accomplished when the tariff bill shall be disposed of. The fortifications bill was the first of the appropriation measures to be received from the house, and it has already been reported to the senate. Sub-committees of the full committee are now considering the pension and District of Columbia appropriation bills, and as soon as these are out of the way will take up the sundry civil bill, which has just been received.

There is probably more popular interest in the sundry civil than in any other appropriation bill, as it affects a larger variety of interests, and it is more likely to be a measure of more important particulars than any other. The bill as it passed the house shows a reduction from last year's appropriation of almost $9,500,000, and it is not improbable that the senate will increase it so as to bring the figures up to those of last year.

The principal item of decrease in the bill this year is in the appropriation for rivers and harbors, amounting as it does to $5,886,153. The house gave this year for this purpose $8,300,000, which is the full amount of the department estimates, so that there was no pressure for an increase on account of this appropriation.

Another important item in the sundry civil bill of last year was $933,000, on account of the Columbia exposition, which swelled the total to that extent. Contracts have also been let for a number of public buildings which will defer appropriations upon them and probably justify the decrease of $451,000 made by the house. The appropriation of $600,000 made last year for the purpose of guarding against the cholera was also unusual, and a large portion of it was unused, leaving it unnecessary to make any appropriation on that score this year.

There are other items, however, upon which there will be strong pressure for additions by the senate. The estimate of the department for lighthouses, fog signals, etc., called for $703,800, while the house provided only $286,000. The estimate of the expenditures necessary in surveying the public lands was scaled from $400,000 to $175,000; that on armories and arsenals from $376,000 to $187,000; for military posts from $704,000 to $600,000.

There is also a big reduction from the estimates for the expenses of the courts, the estimates on the fees for marshals being reduced from $350,000 to $250,000; that of clerks from $268,000 to $175,000; of commissioners from $265,000 to $100,000; of witnesses from $1,150,000 to $750,000; and for the support of prisoners from $750,000 to $300,000.

It is more than likely that there will be pressure from all these sources for an increase over the house appropriation and that in many instances the increase will be made. The United States courts are now complaining of a shortage of funds in many instances. The great reduction in the appropriation for light-houses, fog signals, etc., is to be regretted. It would cripple one of the most important departments of the public service. By a thorough system of light-houses and fog signals, many vessels are saved from disaster and thousands of lives are preserved. To cut down the necessary expenditure for this purpose is not only unwise, but it is criminal.

A large cut has been made in the appropriations for the improvement of rivers and harbors. There is no doubt that many extravagant items have appeared in this bill in past years. Sums were voted to improve little fish ponds and narrow brooks in various parts of the country, as a result of the influence of congressmen in whose districts the ponds and brooks were situated. There is "Objection" Holman, of Indiana, who is always howling about economy and steadily pursues a cheese-paring policy,

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

yet always is careful to see that the river and harbor bill contains a grant for improving a little stream in his district. Probably the present bill contains such a grant.

But while such items are included the bill now before congress contains very inadequate appropriations for waterways that are of general benefit. The amounts for improvements to the harbors and channels along the great lakes are cut to a very low point, yet these improvements would benefit the entire North-west and every state along the lakes. Economy in the expenditures of the government is desirable, but it should be practiced with intelligence and with due care that no interest shall suffer.

The Bright Outlook.
Those who complain that there is no decided improvement in general business throughout the country should not be discouraged because recovery from the depression has been slow. The results of the repeal of the silver purchase act were vital and far-reaching but have been largely concealed by the tariff agitation. The tariff question will soon be settled, and with the removal of this great cause of uncertainty which retards new enterprises and prevents the opening of many factories that the depression closed, there is an assurance of better times.

The commercial agencies report this week that the volume of business is increasing. Profits are much less than before the depression started, but a sudden improvement in this particular cannot be expected. A return to higher prices is always a slow procedure. The volume of business must reach its usual large proportions before prices can be expected to move upwards to any large extent. More mills are at work than a week ago. The starting of several furnaces is evidence of the betterment of conditions affecting the iron trade, which is itself one of the brightest features of the situation. Iron has been called the barometer of trade, and close observation confirms that opinion. When the iron market shows an improvement every other should feel encouraged, and this is what is occurring today.

Then take the railroads. The March reports show that the turn has come in the railway situation. The movement of both eastbound and westbound tonnage is rapidly increasing, and already is nearly as large as it was at this date last year. Improvement in general business is manifest and growing. The stock market is quick to discover the change and, running ahead of slowly developing conditions, to anticipate the prosperity to come. Already it is noticeable that markets are becoming active and prices are advancing. All of which facts should cause the people of Duluth, where the depression was felt less keenly and where the present conditions are more favorable than in most places, to look forward with confidence to a summer of great activity.

Both Good Men.
Vermilion Iron Journal: Newspapers throughout the district are already discussing the Republican congressional nomination, mentioning the names of O. D. Kinney and A. A. Towne, of Duluth, in connection with it. Either would fill the position to the credit of the people.

Scarfutious Nature.
The Times-Recorder, of Americus, Ga., the home of Speaker Crisp, has placed this ticket at its masthead: "For president in 1896, Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois; for vice president, Charles F. Crisp, of Georgia. Platform—Put none but straight Democrats on guard; no gold buggery; no mugwump; no humbuggery. This is a ticket that Dave Hill has reason to fear."

King Charles of Portugal has obtained $400,000 insurance on his life. It is not known whether the czar of Russia carries any insurance, but he would probably be classed as an extra-hazardous risk.

The war in Brazil has not begun. In fact it seems only to have ended in earnest.

Not a Spring Chicken.
Washington County Journal: Some of the St. Paul and Minneapolis papers have been trying hard to ascertain whether or not ex-Senator D. M. Sabin, of this city, intends to enter politics next fall in the hope of succeeding W. D.

Washburn in the United States senate. The Minneapolis Tribune claims that there is no question about it at all, and that it has the authority for the statement. Mr. Sabin is by no means a spring chicken in politics, and if he intended to make a light for the election he wouldn't let the public know it so early in the day.

A Thought of the Resurrection.
The bales that were hid in the darkness through the winter time and the snow have felt the bill of the resurrection. Their hour to bloom they know. Purple and gold and scarlet. And while as the robes of a king. To the glory of love at Easter. Their beautiful white they bring.

The grass that was brown and withered. And sold on the eastern plain. Has been kissed by the tender sunshine. Carressed by the crystal rain. And its bright green leaves quiver. Lo! twice ten millions strong. And the bird, with her nest among them. Flies up with a sudden song.

And we, who have seen our darling. Left from our side away. Who have wept in silent anguish. O'er the cold and pulseless clay. Take heart in the Easter gladness. A parable all may read. That, after earth's dreary winter. Is coming to you and me.

Wants His Senator.
Murray County Republican: A good many of this district's Republican papers are nominating John Lind for senator to succeed Washburn. Lind is our choice every time. The Worthington Advance says: "John Lind should be the next nominee for governor." This is not good enough for Lind. We want to see his title as Senator Lind.

Leave a Place for Duluth.
West Duluth Times: The press throughout the state should remember that Duluth will have a place on the state ticket this year. We have lots of good timber but will be satisfied with a fair representation and the man who will put forward will be selected with care for his particular fitness. In making up slates just leave a blank for a Duluthian.

West Hosts of Friends.
West Duluth Times: Charles A. Towne is being urged by his friends to become a candidate for congress. Mr. Towne is a level-headed gentleman, a good speaker and a Republican in the ground up, and if he should decide to go into the fight, will find hosts of friends to back him. The Times would desire above all things to see just such a man as Mr. Towne called to the high places in the next campaign.

Ely Saw Mill.
The Knox Lumber company at Ely have started their mill and are sawing a small amount. As the mill is new it will take some time to get things in working order. As soon as the electric light plant, now being put in position, gets into working order the company intend to run day and night crews. They have about 12,000 cords of timber banked.

Why Re-Elect Washburn?
Sleepy Eye Herald: What under the sun does Minnesota want to re-elect Washburn to the United States senate for? Will some one tell us what this man ever did for the state? About the only thing he has made a success at is that of getting the reporters to quote him.

Both Good Men.
Vermilion Iron Journal: Newspapers throughout the district are already discussing the Republican congressional nomination, mentioning the names of O. D. Kinney and A. A. Towne, of Duluth, in connection with it. Either would fill the position to the credit of the people.

Scarfutious Nature.
The Times-Recorder, of Americus, Ga., the home of Speaker Crisp, has placed this ticket at its masthead: "For president in 1896, Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois; for vice president, Charles F. Crisp, of Georgia. Platform—Put none but straight Democrats on guard; no gold buggery; no mugwump; no humbuggery. This is a ticket that Dave Hill has reason to fear."

King Charles of Portugal has obtained $400,000 insurance on his life. It is not known whether the czar of Russia carries any insurance, but he would probably be classed as an extra-hazardous risk.

The war in Brazil has not begun. In fact it seems only to have ended in earnest.

Not a Spring Chicken.
Washington County Journal: Some of the St. Paul and Minneapolis papers have been trying hard to ascertain whether or not ex-Senator D. M. Sabin, of this city, intends to enter politics next fall in the hope of succeeding W. D.

Washburn in the United States senate. The Minneapolis Tribune claims that there is no question about it at all, and that it has the authority for the statement. Mr. Sabin is by no means a spring chicken in politics, and if he intended to make a light for the election he wouldn't let the public know it so early in the day.

A Thought of the Resurrection.
The bales that were hid in the darkness through the winter time and the snow have felt the bill of the resurrection. Their hour to bloom they know. Purple and gold and scarlet. And while as the robes of a king. To the glory of love at Easter. Their beautiful white they bring.

The grass that was brown and withered. And sold on the eastern plain. Has been kissed by the tender sunshine. Carressed by the crystal rain. And its bright green leaves quiver. Lo! twice ten millions strong. And the bird, with her nest among them. Flies up with a sudden song.

And we, who have seen our darling. Left from our side away. Who have wept in silent anguish. O'er the cold and pulseless clay. Take heart in the Easter gladness. A parable all may read. That, after earth's dreary winter. Is coming to you and me.

Wants His Senator.
Murray County Republican: A good many of this district's Republican papers are nominating John Lind for senator to succeed Washburn. Lind is our choice every time. The Worthington Advance says: "John Lind should be the next nominee for governor." This is not good enough for Lind. We want to see his title as Senator Lind.

Leave a Place for Duluth.
West Duluth Times: The press throughout the state should remember that Duluth will have a place on the state ticket this year. We have lots of good timber but will be satisfied with a fair representation and the man who will put forward will be selected with care for his particular fitness. In making up slates just leave a blank for a Duluthian.

West Hosts of Friends.
West Duluth Times: Charles A. Towne is being urged by his friends to become a candidate for congress. Mr. Towne is a level-headed gentleman, a good speaker and a Republican in the ground up, and if he should decide to go into the fight, will find hosts of friends to back him. The Times would desire above all things to see just such a man as Mr. Towne called to the high places in the next campaign.

class party. Mr. Ryan, rector of the St. Paul church, gave an informal but very interesting talk, last Wednesday morning. His subject was "Self Mastery" and he gave some excellent and practical hints to the other people of the society to him. Like all the other speakers, he congratulated them on their surroundings and the superior advantages; and advised them to make good use of these, and to make themselves masters of self. He said that concentration of thought was the way which by which mastery could be attained; and urged them to cultivate good memories. For the idea of a good memory is a power which a poor memory is morally weak, because the memory is entirely under the control of the will, and a person with no will power is deficient in morals.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Judge Moor Hearing the Injunction Cases Brought to Restrain the Issue of Water Bonds.

The Two Actions Brought by Michael Norris and W. S. Woodbridge Are Being Heard Jointly.

J. L. Washburn's Argument Occupied All of the Forenoon—The Spice Company Case to Come Up.

Judge Moor's time was taken up this morning with the argument on the demurrer in the case of Michael Norris against the city of Duluth. By agreement the case of W. S. Woodbridge against the city is being heard jointly. These are the cases brought to compel the granting of a permanent injunction restraining the city from issuing $300,000 water bonds. J. L. Washburn attorney for Michael Norris occupied the entire forenoon with his argument. He maintains that the suit will be illegal, because it will increase the city's debt above the 5 per cent limit. He questions the validity of the bid and declares that it is no bid at all, because it is conditional. He insists that the failure of the mayor to fix the time and place for the payment of principal and interest is a fatal defect.

This afternoon S. T. Harrison is being heard and Page Morris, city attorney, will reply.

The case of D. B. Smith vs. Smith-Coulter Spice company was expected to come up before Judge Ensign this afternoon. This is the case wherein Mr. Smith applies for the appointment of a receiver for the Smith-Coulter Spice company.

Other cases disposed of were as follows:

In re assignment of Charles J. Lindberg, final account allowed and assignee discharged.

In re assignment of Albert Stoltz, order made for sale of property in grocery.

G. E. Dickerman vs. Alfred Merritt et al., answer stricken out as sham.

Charles Holmquist vs. Simon Clark et al., order setting aside levy and sale of real estate on execution.

In re assignment of Frank Farber, final account allowed.

R. L. Wilkins vs. Isaiah Farber et al., ordered that case be dismissed unless defendant procure order allowing him to file amended complaint.

Robert Crombie et al. vs. Jacob J. Hemmer et al., order for judgment for plaintiff satisfactory mortgage.

Five cases were stricken and seven continued.

The Regular Term.
Judge Lewis again took up the case of E. Perrault vs. John T. Cargill et al after he had disposed of his special term cases. The following setting of cases has been made:

Monday—168, 201, 203, 204, 205, 207, 209, 233, 70 and 99.

The Police Court.
In police court this morning, C. Jackson received a suspended sentence for drunkenness. The charge of assault against Charles Winners, the carpenter, who battered the head of Miss Blair, the Senegambian Cyprian, was dismissed as the city attorney was convinced that Winners was justifiably in action. The charges of assault against both Jacob Graef and August E. Feder were also dismissed.

THE CLARK INVESTIGATION.
The Affidavits and Counter Affidavits Read Before the Board.

The county commissioners met yesterday afternoon to investigate the charges against Thomas Clark. All reporters were barred as also was Mr. Clark's attorney. Mr. Clark himself was admitted, and County Attorney Tear was also permitted to be an interested but silent witness.

Commissioner Poirer opened with an objection to Commissioner Butchart's participation in the investigation on the grounds that he was prejudiced. An alleged interview, as published in a newspaper, representing Mr. Butchart as saying that Mr. Poirer was angry because Capt. Paul was displaced by Clark, was made the basis of Mr. Poirer's objection. Mr. Butchart denied ever making any such statement. Mr. Poirer wanted to know why, then, it had not been contradicted in the papers. Butchart said that he had other business than to run around and contradict newspaper yarns.

In refutation of the charges against him, Mr. Clark submitted the affidavit of Mrs. Mary A. Clark, the woman whom Mr. Clark's desk looking at the picture of Commissioner Poirer claims to have found in Mr. Clark's arms. She denies the charge. In her deposition Mrs. Clark states that she went to the office of the superintendent of poor and when Mr. Poirer came in she was leaning over Mr. Clark's desk looking at the picture of his little boy. She denies the conversation alleged to have been held with Mr. Poirer in his store.

Mr. Clark made no affidavit but did make a verbal denial of the charges. To the charge that he had given the woman relief without application he entered a denial.

The commissioners then adjourned and the next meeting will probably be held April 4, when the report will be brought in.

I sing of the newsboys, those hustling vendors of the finished product of trained minds, skilled hands, busy feet, clicking wires and ingenious machinery.

This old world is a busy place and wherever a daily newspaper is found, there the hum of industry is particularly pronounced. If you want to see high pressure, seek out the office of that favorite mirror of the doings of the day--a live, well regulated evening newspaper. There, every movement is made to quick time; there the sun's field must be covered in eight hours that a morning paper jogs leisurely along in for fully fourteen.

Typical of the City.

In many respects, the daily papers of Duluth are yet in their swaddling clothes, but they possess all the rudimentary methods of the leading metropolitan journals of the land. Not later than 8 o'clock a. m. the city editor and his staff of reporters must be at their desks. Articles written after the close of copy the day before are handed in. Notes expanded into readable articles and certain routine local matter in the columns of the morning paper commence drifting into the composing room. At 8:30 the "father of the chapel" calls time. The foreman has cut the early copy and "takes" which he hangs on the "hook." When time is called, each compositor in turn receives a "take" of copy and then, for a steady stretch for three busy hours, strains every nerve to get as much as possible of that copy into cold type.

By 9 o'clock the reporters are ready to start out on their "runs" in search of the early local news. One goes to the city hall, police court, land office and other points. Another visits the county building, district and United States courts. Another looks after railroad and marine news. The hotels must be visited for personal items and possibly interviews with distinguished guests. Then, too, the city editor may assign one or all of the reporters some special matter to look up. At any moment a fire may break out, a frightful accident take place, a suicide or murder be committed, immediate attention is demanded by any such events. So out the boys go. Brain, nerves, muscles, are at the highest tension for the next three hours. If possible, too, the early morning news must be written out and left on the city editor's desk by 10 and then 11 o'clock. It may be, however, that the reporter will be so crowded or news will be so scarce, that he will not get back to his desk much before the noon hour. Notes are then rapidly written out. After that, when duty permits, a hasty lunch is taken and the hustle resumed. That keeps up until 5 o'clock when copy closes.

The news of the world is received each day over the wires of the Associated Press. Events in a field covered by 18,000 miles of association wires come directly into The Herald's composing room over a special wire. At 7 a. m. the instrument begins to click and from that on to the close of the day, save a half hour for lunch, it is the nimble fingers of The Herald's skilled operator changes the dots and dashes into sheets of neatly written copy, which are, from time to time, relayed to the composing editor. He edits the copy and writes appropriate and attractive headlines. The sheets are then passed to the foreman clip them into "takes" and the printers cut the news from every country, every clime on this terrestrial ball, into type.

About the hour when "time" is called in the composing room and the printers commence to devour the early grist of local copy, the managing editor puts in an appearance. He opens up his desk, reads his correspondence, hastily glances over the morning paper and gives such orders as are necessary to the city editor, who, in turn passes some of them on down to the reporters. A conference with the man who "greases the wheels," the business manager, may follow or a few moments be spared to an early visitor who has a suggestion to offer as to the proper way to run a daily paper. Then, as on The Herald, where the managing editor is also the editorial writer, that august personage sharpens his Faber No. 2 and commences to grind out convincing editorials. Copy of various kinds must be edited, special news matter ordered from correspondents and a thousand and one duties that fall to one holding that position. At noon the managing editor gets an hour for lunch--if he has time.

The Business Department.

But there's something else about a newspaper office that must not be forgotten and that's the business department. The business manager, the genius who handles for "the bulls and bears" each Saturday night, is the head figure there. He's the master wheel of the financial end of a daily paper. He gets around when he pleases, and on The Herald, being a hustler, he often reaches his desk by 8 o'clock. The collectors come in and then pass out in quest of cash for which they surrender monthly bills. The subscription solicitors early in the morning, then, singing the merits of their sheet and seeking new readers. By 9 o'clock that born diplomat, dispenser of sunny smiles, convincing master of argument and expert witness of the value of printers' ink, the advertising solicitor, is out making his daily visits to the merchants and advertisers. The smiling, long tempered cashier drops in behind the window in his wire cage, prepared to please the public. Wait ads are received at the advertising window, checks paid and received, kicking customers placated, correspondence attended, and a thousand and one items of business attend to by the province of the business department, "from early morn to dewy eve."

At 11:30 the compositors take a brief half hour for lunch, then at 12 they go again until about 1:30 o'clock. At 1:15 the market reporter drops into the board of trade for the record of the "bulls and bears" for the day. By 1 o'clock the reporters' last local copy goes in and the telegraph editor sends out the latest news by wire.

All is then activity in the composing room. The closing "takes" of copy, or "go," as the printers say, are rapidly set. The heavy work of the day commences for correction and delayed "slug heads" are hastily set. There are loud voices, there are sharp commands from the experienced foreman. Column after column of type is placed in the form under the supervision of the managing editor and then locked up.

By the little rope elevator the leaden pages are hoisted to the dimly lighted, overworked press room. There the muscular, bare-armed pressmen, in greasy garb, with their grimy hands, seize the heavy forms "plunge" down all inequalities and then place them on the broad, iron beds of the massive press. The head pressman sees that all is in place and at his command an assistant moves the lever. Belts creak, shafting turns, wheels revolve and after a few moments the grumbling iron monster fairly roars as its different parts with thump and clang devour the long rolls of white paper, and then, after they have run along one side of the mailing room and more are steadily coming in. It is a noisy, squirming, aggressive, enthusiastic mass of young humanity. All are watching for No. 1, and he who relaxes his vigilance is lost.

The first papers printed are given to the mailing clerk who sees that they are quickly addressed to the mail subscribers and hastened to the postoffice to catch the earliest train out of the city. The carriers who supply the news stands are fixed out next and after them come the boys who deliver the paper each evening to regular subscribers in the more remote suburbs. Then come the newsboys whose earnings depend upon their ability, efforts and a certain percentage of circumstances and luck.

The boys pay 15 cents apiece for The Herald and retail it on the street for 3 cents. When they first come in many buy checks calling for a certain number of papers. This saves time and mistakes in making change when the grand rush in handing out commences. The great strife is to see who will get out onto the street first, and it is an expectant, watchful company that crowds up to the counter.

An Exciting Scene.

How the youngsters scramble and squeeze! Sometimes those at the rear are almost driven over the backs of those in the front. "What's it bout?" they cry. By that they mean "What is the most important article with the big head lines that we must cry on the street to attract the ears of customers?" "Pinkey" tells them "what it's bout," and they commence yelling it almost at the tops of their voices right there in the circulation room.

Then big armfuls of papers, froth

school most severe, with results of incalculable benefit.

Real estate agents, life insurance missionaries, merchants, professional men, mechanics, politicians, speculators on change, will receive from their ranks recruits whose names will become most illustrious. It must be admitted, too, that the penitentiaries, gambling halls, saloons and dives will catch a certain per cent unless conclusions drawn from a study and analysis of the real live animal, genus newsboy, are wholly unwarranted.

From the press, are brought in and Superintendent Pearson rapidly counts them. The crowd presses forward. Arms are stretched forward, hands waved and a perfect babel of yells sent up. It is an exciting contest between "bulls and bears on change" in miniature. Unless Superior gets our board of trade away from us, it is not unlikely that some of these same boys, within a few years, will be talking about "shorts" and "longs," "puts and calls," "jumps," "buys" and "all that on Duluth's real board of trade."

A Building Auctioneer.

There's one boy in Duluth who can be heard for blocks almost when he cries: "Evening Herald! 5 o'clock edition, only 3 cents. All about Baldwin's latest appointment!" He has a magnificent voice and fairly shakes the foundations of the buildings. Some day, perhaps, he'll blossom out into a "silver-tongued orator," or more likely, an auctioneer. One evening some weeks ago he was crying, as he stood on the corner of Fourth avenue west and Superior street: "All about the terrible shipwreck!" A fellow newsboy who was so young that he did not know the difference between a shipwreck and a shipwreck in winter, with a knowing look said, as he came along: "Hear de guy! A shipwreck in de middle of de winter!"

The newsboys are great hands for nicknames. "Blixie," "Dutchy," "Ignots" (for Ignatius), "Fatty," "Henri" (for Henry), and so on. Duluth is not yet enough metropolitan to have boys nicknamed "Swipesy," "Chimble" and similar cognomines dear to the young reporters who love to write sketches with imaginary newsboys of that brand for heroes. They are not found in Duluth, despite attempts to manufacture them on paper. There are some near enough though, and for their own good, it is to be hoped that they'll get no nearer, even if it does prevent some scribbler from writing a character sketch in newsboy dialect.

About a month ago a well dressed and polite little fellow came into the circulation room for the first time and, probably as taught by a good and careful mother, upon entering the room, doffed his cap. Quick as a flash "de gang" set up a wild howl and one quick-witted youngster yelled out, "Look at Wheels!" Every day since the little fellow has been greeted as "Wheels," and as long as he sells papers he'll be known by that name, for a nickname sticks like wax with the newsboys.

Picnics for the Newsies.

One great bright day in a newsboy's career is when the circulation taker "de gang" to the theater or on a picnic. One time in St. Paul "Pinkey" took 300 newsboys on a picnic and not a single one was left behind. On another occasion in Duluth, when on the News, Superintendent Pearson took 130 of the boys to the theater. When the Duluth newsboy picnic was held on Allouez bay a couple of years ago, one boy was drowned, however. While the crowd was at lunch, half a dozen slipped away and went in swimming. They got in beyond their depth, but four got out alone. Pearson succeeded in getting out another just as

with a look of supreme disgust and anger.

The "Mascol."

But "Mascol" must not be forgotten. He is a Jewish boy, only 7 years old and actually no larger than the proverbial pint of cider. Like King David of old, he is master of the harp. It is almost an every day occurrence to see him amusing his business associates with beautifully rendered tunes on the mouth organ. His real name is Willie. The boys call him "Jumbo." Being Pearson's favorite, he calls the little chap "Mascol." He wears a perennial smile and clothes that, once, perhaps, were new and clean. He is strictly honest and a great favorite with all. The other day he said: "Pinkey, see my hands. I've washed them. Don't they look pretty?"

"Hello, you little Dago," said the cashier in the business office.

Some chow tobacco like a horse and every effort is made to secure the weed. Cigarette smoking is only too prevalent and several are the proud possessors of vile smelling old pipes that have been picked up here and there. Chaffing and guffing are indulged in upon the slightest pretext and some of the precocious young business men are very witty in their slangy puns and gibes. Several of the boys are quite handy at picking up establish. Very few, in fact, will refuse a little lunch secured at a grocer's expense. A couple of weeks ago a visit to the pressroom found all the boys gnawing big yellow carrots.

"Where did you get those?" asked Pearson.

"From a grocery store up the street," was the nonchalant reply.

Only last Saturday a squad came in with a whole armful of fresh bunches.

"We got them from that bakery wagon out here," said the young rascal.

Another squad had numerous bunches of green onions.

"Where'd those onions come from?" was asked the irrepressible.
